U.S. Will Try To Start Spaceship On 110-Day Trip To Venus Today

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technical problems Saturday night forced a 24-hour postponement of Sunday's scheduled attempt to launch a Mariner 2 spacecraft to the vicinity of the planet Venus.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space scientists began final preparations Saturday for an attempt early Sunday to launch an interplanetary spaceship on a 110-day journey to the vicinity of the planet Venus.

A 10-story-tall Atlas Agena-B rocket is poised on Pad 12, waiting the signal to blast off to start the Mariner 2 craft across 182 million miles of space for a brief encounter with Venus on Dec. 14.

Project officials pronounced everything ready for launching the mechanical explorer. Barring 11th hour troubles, the big rocket will soar aloft Sunday, sometime during the first three hours after midnight.

If all goes right, Mariner 2 will pass within 10,000 miles of Venus on the intended target date and then zip on into endless orbit around the sun.

During a 30-minute sweep across Venus' sunlit side, Mariner 2's sensitive instruments, using high-frequency radio signals, will seek to penetrate the heavy cloud veil surrounding the planet and unlock secrets which have puzzled astronomers and scientists for centuries.

The signals will be radioed 36 million miles back to earth where computers and scientists will translate them into solid information about the mysterious bright planet whom the early Romans

Ben Bella's Political Bureau Forced Out By Guerrilla Junta

ALGIERS (AP) — A junta of guerrilla colonels forced Ahmed Ben Bella's Political Bureau out of power Saturday and plunged the eight-week-old nation into a new and dangerous crisis.

In a dramatic announcement to the Algerian people, the Political Bureau declared it could no longer carry out its duties in the "anarchy and general insecurity" created by the rebellious officers of Military Zone 4 occupying the capital.

In what might be its last official act as the nation's de facto provisional government, the bureau also put off indefinitely the Sept. 2 elections for an Assembly and withdrew the list of Assembly candidates it had previously named on with the zone commanders.

Only 23 days after wresting power from Provisional Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, Deputy Premier Ben Bella and his four friends on the Political Bureau were reported planning to flee the city.

Ben Bella's only opponent on the bureau, Acting Foreign Minister Mohammed Boudiaf, resigned and seemed to align himself with the guerrilla commanders.

The government-owned radio station, held at gunpoint by Zone 4 troops, was prevented from broadcasting the bureau's statement which accused the zone of "seeking to smother the bureau's voice and paralyze its action."

The statement accused troops of kidnappings and arbitrary arrests, searches and seizure of property, illegal appointment of government officials and usurping civil and judicial authority in defiance of the Political Bureau.

While the nation's government and administrative services floundered in chaos, life continued almost normally in Algiers and other cities.

CHURCHILL CONTINUES TO IMPROVE
LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill was reported Saturday to be getting a little better each day.

He has been practicing walking about the ground-floor suite of his home since returning there from hospital on Tuesday.

Reid's Condition Serious Following Heart Attack

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Frank Reid Jr., of Aurora, candidate for Congress in the 15th District, remained in serious condition Saturday following a heart attack suffered Friday at the state Republican Convention.

Dr. Almon A. Manson said Reid showed improvement Saturday, but was still very sick and would be confined to his bed in Memorial Hospital for at least two weeks.

Reid's seizure prompted a wave of concern among Republican leaders in the district about whether Reid might be forced to withdraw from the November election.

Glen Moneny, La Salle County GOP chairman, called a conference of township committeemen to discuss possible steps to qualify an alternate candidate if it became necessary.

Reid, 52, won a seven-candidate primary in April for his party's nomination to succeed Rep. Noah Mason in the 15th District. Mason, 81, will retire after this session of Congress.

Reid, an attorney, has a lengthy background in public office. He was assistant Kane County state's attorney from 1963-69, corporation counsel for Aurora from 1947-49, and special assistant Illinois attorney general from 1955-60.

The Democratic nomination was won by Stanley Cowan of East Dundee, who operates the Dry Ice Corp. in Elgin. Cowan has been active in party affairs, but the current campaign is his first bid for public office.

State law provides a method by which a candidate can be selected if a vacancy occurs between the primary and the general election, said Don Ed, chief of the index division in the secretary of state's office.

Portugal Tightens Terms For Renewal Of Bases In Azores

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal has handed the United States a memorandum that indicates negotiations for a renewal of U.S. bases in the Azores will be long and difficult, informed sources said Saturday.

Under terms of a renewed lease of 1957, the United States must withdraw from its huge Logans base and the Santa Maria standby base within six months after Dec. 31 this year if no new agreement is reached. The United States has spent $100 million on the bases.

Portuguese officials said the memorandum proposes an agenda of items Portugal wants to discuss at the time negotiations for the Azores renewal agreement come up.

Once friendly relations soured when the United States supported U.N. criticism of Portuguese colonial policy in Africa. They deteriorated further when the United States stood aloof as India seized the Portuguese enclave of Goa.

The statements indicate the United States failed in its efforts to persuade Portugal to negotiate a renewal of the base agreement separately from a discussion of political and other problems involving the two countries.

In the past Portugal refused direct rental for the bases, calling them its contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There have been recent suggestions that now that Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime needs both economic and political support, it will demand both as the price for a new agreement with the United States.

It feeling against the Kennedy administration continues here. But official circles believe a solution will be reached on the various problems.

Berlin Tensions Ease Despite New Gunfire

BELIN (AP) — Despite new gunfire on the Communist side of the wall, tension in this underdog city appeared to be easing Saturday night after eight days of bitter East-West wrangling.

One burst of gunfire in the early morning darkness was apparently aimed at an East German people's army soldier who made it unharmed into West Berlin. East German guards also hailed an East German trying to swim a canal to West Berlin and hauled him into a police boat.

In all, West German police estimated 100 rounds were fired by Eastern guards in four different places. As far as they could tell, no one was hit.

Angry crowds, however, which a few days ago were shouting Soviet army buses and shoving insults across the Communist wall through the city were not to be seen as the weekend started.

West Berlin police remained on the alert along the wall.

The bitter indignation which welled up after the killing on Aug. 17 of Peter Fechter, 18, an East German, seemed to be subsiding in its place was the old hatred and contempt for the wall and its Communist builders.

Brief services for the most recent victim of the East German border guards were held in Berlin without creating an incident.

The shooting of Wespa by his comrades at the command of East German Communist leader Walter M. Ulbricht illustrates the "wretchedness of Germany's fate," Albert said.

The Soviets changed their guard at the Red war memorial in West Berlin in record time, using the three armored personnel carriers instead of buses.

At the international crossing point of the wall, Checkpoint Charlie, they picked up an American Army escort as ordered by the U.S. commandant, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II.

The convoy sped to the monument near Brandenburg Gate, delivered the 18 soldiers and picked up the troops being relieved. The carriers were back at Checkpoint Charlie in 32 minutes with a British army escort.

The Russians, who seem to be trying to prove that it is dangerous for them to move through West Berlin after the stoppage earlier in the week, attracted little attention.

West Berlin police have placed barbed wire near the checkpoint to keep back crowds, but it was not needed. Additional police also are provided whenever the Soviets appear with their personnel carriers.

BOGUS POSTMEN ROBBED
LONDON POST OFFICE
LONDON (AP) — Four bogus postmen in brown uniforms walked into London's main post office Saturday and strolled out later with a haul expected to run into thousands of dollars.

Police said the men walked in with the early stream of postmen on duty, opened a strong room and looted registered mail and parcels.

LITHUANIAN ARCHBISHOP DIES
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican reported Saturday it had learned of the death Aug. 20 of Archbishop Teofilas Matulionis of Kaunas, Lithuania, former priest of the Church of the Sacred Heart at Leningrad who spent years in Soviet jails and Arctic prison colonies. He was 69.

Castro Blames U.S.—Cuban Exiles Boast About Attack

HAVANA (AP) — Sea raiders shelled the Havana suburb of Miramar Friday night, hitting a hotel headquarters of Soviet bloc technicians helping Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

Damage was slight, but near-panic swept the hotel as sleeping guests were shaken out of bed by the midnight bombardment.

Castro promptly blamed the United States and "mercenary agents (Cuban exiles) who operate with impunity from the coasts of Florida."

A revolutionary Cuban student group in Miami boasted it carried out the raid in two fully equipped vessels, firing more than 60 shots into the area.

A spokesman for the group said the bombardment, most dramatic anti-Castro move since the ill-starred Bay of Pigs invasion 16 months ago, was made because of the arrival of Communist bloc personnel in Cuba. "The Russians are on our soil," he said. "We cannot stand and do nothing."

The U.S. government rejected Castro's charge of American involvement but said it had evidence the Miami-backed student group staged the naval attack.

The U.S. Coast Guard, under State Department orders, impounded at Marathon, Fla., two private boats apparently used in the shelling. The State Department warned that repetition of such an action by anti-Castro refugees could mean prosecution under the U.S. Neutrality Act.

President Kennedy, weekendings

in Hyannis Port, Mass., consulted by phone with members of his staff in Washington.

Castro charged that several other buildings besides the hotel were hit by the shellfire. He made no mention of any casualties.

The student group, the Directorio Revolution Estudiantil, said its 19-to-23-year-old sea raiders encountered return fire from the shore but escaped unharmed in the darkness. Residents of the suburban shore area, however, said gun batteries emplaced there were silent.

Scant damage was visible at the U.S. Officials Eye Arms Shipments To Cuba With Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are watching the new Soviet arms shipments to Cuba with interest but something less than alarm.

Chief reason for their attitude: The Russian aid appears aimed at building up Prime Minister Fidel Castro's defenses, not his ability to strike out at his neighbors.

U.S. officials reported Friday that eight Russian cargo vessels recently docked at Cuban ports with military equipment and a dozen more Soviet freighters are en route. An unspecified number of additional Soviet ships were said to have brought an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 Communist bloc technicians.

The military cargoes reportedly included communications vans, radar vans, trucks, mobile generator units and perhaps anti-aircraft (surface to air) missile of the Nike type, which Moscow has furnished to Indonesia and Iraq.

More than half the technicians appeared to be military specialists, said the officials, but they estimated the number would be reasonable for assembling the weapons and training the Cubans how to use them.

They also reported no evidence of Soviet or other Communist bloc combat troops, surface to surface offensive rockets, atomic war-

Johnson, Iran's Shah Confer On Military Aid Cut

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran asked for some cowboy-style "good plain talk" with visiting Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on Saturday and he got it from the Texan, informed sources said.

Johnson spelled out President Kennedy's policy of eliminating defense support in all but a few countries, a cut that will reduce Iran's army by at least 15 per cent. Iran will continue to get military equipment under the aid program.

The Shah said he understood the policy that will trim Iran's 205,000-man armed forces and said he wants an army only large enough to "fulfill its role in the free world."

To help rehabilitate discharged veterans, the Shah indicated he may want a large contingent from the U.S. Peace Corps for construction and development projects.

Johnson's explanation of the old Civilian Conservation Corps camps in the United States prompted the Shah to ask about the possibility of similar projects here, possibly with the help of the Peace Corps.

Most of the discussions with the ruler and the ministers, however, dwelt on big development projects. Washington is awaiting details of Iran's third development plan, now under alteration, to decide on future aid appropriations.

Leaving the palace, Johnson changed into sports clothes, and was off on a drive in an imperial car to meet the people.

It was Johnson's second day among the crowds in Tehran, and the city's newspapers Saturday commended his informal approach.

LIGHT EARTH TREMORS CONTINUE IN ITALY

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — More light earth tremors ripped across southern Italy Saturday, stirring new uneasiness after last Tuesday's earthquake that took nearly a score of lives.

Cold Front Moves In, Ends Drought, Breaks Heat Wave

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A drought-breaking, heat-chasing cold front moved across the parched midcontinent Saturday.

Torrential rains poured down on Austin, Tex., breaking the longest drought in 41 years. The city measured 4 1/2 inches of rainfall between midnight and 8 a.m., the first moisture in 55 days.

Showers and general rains broke out along a cold front extending from lower Michigan to the Texas coast. Some northern Michigan areas had one to two inches of rainfall.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms developed in the southern coastal states, but elsewhere around the nation sunny, dry weather was the rule.

Cool, wet weather in the 60s replaced heat in the mid-90s in parts of the Midwest. Temperatures in parts of Texas dropped nearly 20 degrees to the mid-80s.

In most other sections, midday readings were generally in the 80s. However, pocket of warm 90s appeared in the Dakotas and along some parts of the Gulf.

While 100-degree heat prevailed from the arid Southwest into the interior valleys of California.

Temperatures on the seasonable warm side were in prospect for most sections of the nation Sunday.

Military Planning Includes Impact Of Space Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff include the possible impact of military space operations in their planning for both the near and distant future.

This was disclosed Saturday in answers given by a Defense Department spokesman to a series of questions about U.S. strategic objectives as related to space warfare.

The questions had their genesis in a series of recent developments. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was described as believing that no military application of space vehicles had been demonstrated in the twin-satellite orbiting feat of the Soviet Union.

Subsequently, McNamara modified that report view by saying: "The Russians have demonstrated a launching booster capacity 'substantially in excess' of that of the United States; the new Titan III booster project will provide the United States with launching capability two to three times greater than the rocket engines now used by the Soviet Union; and by the time the Defense Department puts together its recommendations for the fiscal 1964 budget this winter it will have learned enough about requirements to add new projects to its military space programs."

The comments left unanswered the question of whether military space operations and defensive problems are just a gleam in the eye or already are being incorporated into future plans.

The joint chiefs maintain in "program for planning" three continuously revised strategic plans: — A long-range strategic estimate covering a four-year period which begins eight years after adoption of the plan and thus carries coverages to a point 12 years ahead.

— A medium-range program estimate, covering a three-year period beginning four years in the future.

— A short-range joint strategic "capabilities plan," intended for immediate use with weapons systems already in existence.

The first two programs provide guidance for military research, development and engineering directed at the shaping of strategy in connection with weapons systems still in the hoped-for or development stage.

Viet Cong Orders Guerrillas Avoid Any Engagements

BAC LIEU, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong command in South Viet Nam has ordered its guerrilla units to avoid engagements with government troops at all costs, U.S. military sources said Saturday.

The order would explain in part the failure of the big government drive in the deep south, now in its 11th day, to flush any large forces of the guerrillas.

While the Americans are convinced the guerrillas have been put to flight in "Operation Big Pacification," which they devised and supported, they are disappointed at results.

U.S. military advisers said the Viet Cong order to refrain from engaging government troops was intercepted after the launching of the drive in the Mekong delta region south of Saigon.

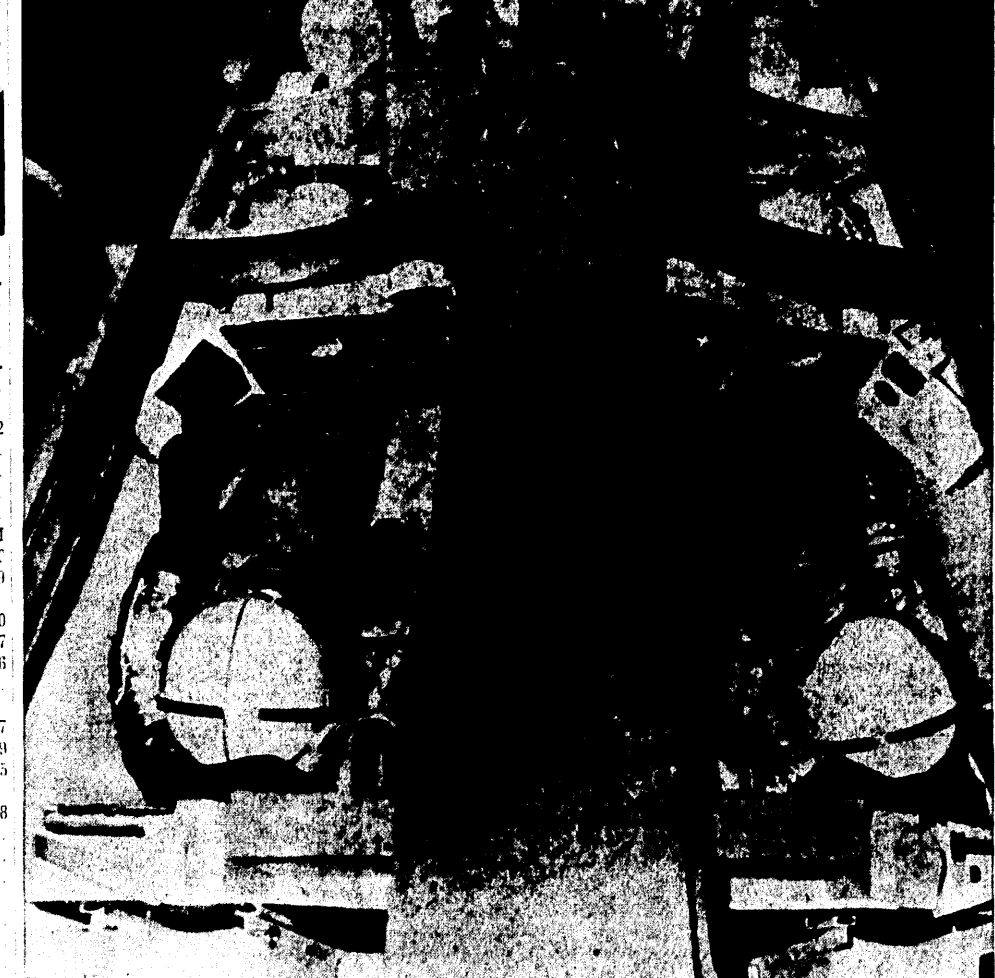

The order was intercepted en route from the Viet Cong's secret headquarters to a field guerrilla unit. One guerrilla force that clashed with an airborne battalion last Tuesday was badly mauled.

Last Wednesday a militia unit was ambushed in the delta, 14 militiamen were killed and 13 wounded.

The government's general military staff has already swung into action in an attempt to capitalize on the order.

Decoy forces are being sent deep into the flooded paddy fields to lure guerrillas into attacking.

MOCKUP GEMINI — The instrument division of Lear Siegler Inc., released this preliminary mockup of Gemini, the 2-man space vehicle to be launched by NASA after project Mercury. The instrument in center of each control panel is a flight director-altitude indicator built by Lear. The instrument will show at a glance roll, yaw and pitch, replacing three instruments astronauts needed to observe in Mercury spacecraft. GARY D. JOHNSON TRAINS IN NAVY

GARY D. JOHNSON, III, (PHINC)—Gary D. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Johnson of 1315 South Clay ave., and Thomas H. Goldsmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin F. Rogers of 1065 South Clay ave., both of Jacksonville, Ill., are undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life began on July 27. It consists of physical fitness drills, basic military laws, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.

Scouts Hike 102 Miles

Assistant Scoutmaster Leland Rhoades, Troop 107, and son, Steven of Post 107 have returned from a camping and hiking trip through states of Indiana and Kentucky.

The first trail was the Chattanooga at Indianapolis. They camped at Camp Belzer and the trail ran from that camp to Gebt Reservoir, a distance of 18 miles. This trail was one of the more difficult ones.

The next trail covered was Yellowwood at Nashville, Ind. Here they camped on Bear Wallow Hill, the trail starting at Morgan Wallow. This trail was very scenic and easily traveled. It was 20 miles long.

The Scouts then traveled to Corydon, Ind., where they hiked the Wyandotte Caves, located near Corydon in Southern Indiana and ended at Marengo Caves. The trail followed chiefly secondary highways and was 14.7 miles long.

The most scenic trail was the Bluegrass Trail at Lexington, Kentucky. They camped at the Sportsmen Club in Lexington. The trail started at the home of Henry Clay and ended at the Man O' War farm, a distance of 14.5 miles.

This trail passes many historic spots in Lexington. Some of them being the home of Henry Clay, the Court House, Slave Auction site, Union Army headquarters, the famous Dixieana Farm and the home of Confederate General John Hunt Morgan. After two days of sightseeing and relaxation they traveled on to Burnside, Kentucky where they camped at Gen. Burnside Island State Park and hiked to the Zollcoffer trail. This trail started at the park and ended at the tomb of Gen. Felix K. Zollcoffer. The trail followed main and secondary highways. Gen. Zollcoffer was a great Confederate general, killed with 150 men at the site where the monument stands. The trail covered 17 miles.

The last trail covered was the George Rogers Clark Trail where they camped at Columbus-Belmont State Park. The trail started at the park and ended at Wickliffe, Ky. A tour of the court house, the ancient buried city and the state park was required to receive this trail medal. The trail was 18 miles long.

They returned home with many beautiful color slides taken of the trails, beautiful homes and horses. They also have six medals to add to their collection. Leland and Steve reside at 477 South East St.

Birthday Fete At Meredosia Rebekah Lodge

MEREDOSIA — Rebekah Lodge No. 151 met in regular session, Thursday, Aug. 23, at 8 p.m., at their hall, Mrs. Earl Gregory, noble grand, conducted the meeting. An invitation was received from Ashland Rebekah Lodge No. 382 to attend a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m., preceding their regular lodge meeting on Sept. 7 at 8 p.m., when they will entertain officers of the 20th District Association. The officers will dress formally.

At the close of lodge a social was held for those having birthdays in August. Mrs. Clyde McAllister was the only one present, her birthday was Aug. 24.

Three officers were seated with her at the birthday table, Mrs. Earl Gregory, noble grand, Mrs. Charles Smith, secretary, and Mrs. John Nortrup, treasurer.

Refreshments of cup cakes and iced tea were served by Mrs. Hernan Rausch and Mrs. Arthur Barth Jr.

Games were played with all present receiving three prizes. Next meeting will be Sept. 13, same time and place.

Enter Horse Show: Dwight Nortrup and Gary Bunch entered their horses in the Horse Show at Timewell, Wednesday, Aug. 22, which was their Annual Fish Fry Day. About 40 horses were entered in the show.

Dwight won three ribbons—barrel race, white; flag race, white; rescue, red. Gary won in the same three—pink, yellow and yellow in the same order.

Announce Births: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ham of Chambersburg announce the birth of their first child, a son, Clay Alan, six pounds and nine ounces, at 10 a.m., Thursday, Aug. 23, at Schnitz Memorial hospital, at Beardstown.

Mrs. Ham was the former Beverly Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Chapman of Virginia, the maternal grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Breckon of Alexander are the maternal great-grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Ham of Chambersburg are the paternal grandparents. Mrs. Elsie Ham of the last mentioned city is the paternal great-grandmother. Mr. Russell Smith of Mt. Sterling is the paternal great-grandfather.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR, WIFE AT MEREDOSIA

MEREDOSIA — A reception to welcome Reverend and Mrs. Elmer D. Palmer as pastor of the local Meredosia Methodist church was held at the church, Wednesday evening, Aug. 22.

Many members and friends of the church were in attendance. Harold Delbert acted as master of ceremonies for the following program:

Opening prayer: was given by Mrs. Margaret Petri. The junior choir sang a number entitled "He." Reverend Palmer gave a brief message.

A trio composed of Marcia Taylor, Lisa Metz and Jolene Schneider sang "Nothing But Leaves." This was followed by the congregation singing several numbers.

Reverend Palmer gave the closing benediction. Then all retired to the basement dining room where the Women's Society of Christian Service served punch, cookies and nuts.

A social and get-acquainted period followed.

HEAVY RAIN CAUSE OF TWO CAR CRASH

Two new model cars were damaged Friday evening at the intersection of South Church and West Morgan as a heavy rain hampered the vision of one of the drivers involved.

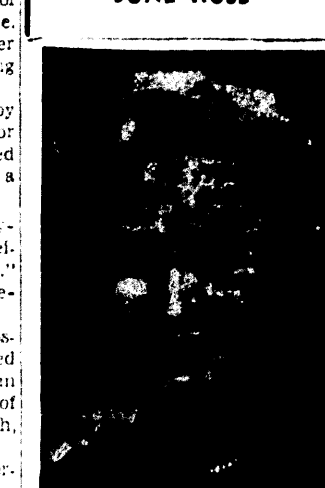

Sally B. Taylor told investigating officers that she was attempting to turn onto West Morgan in the eastbound lane of traffic from South Church, when she struck a car operated by James R. Heady of Beardstown.

Heady had been traveling in the northbound lane of traffic on South Church.

Miss Taylor said that the heavy rain prevented her from seeing the Heady vehicle.

Both cars were damaged slightly.

"THE WAY TO BEAUTY" by JUNE HUSS

Canada geese, as a tribe, are known as arctic breeders, but many pairs of "Canadian honkers" are setting up housekeeping south of the Canadian border nowadays, the National Wildlife Federation reports. One example, says the Federation, is to be found on the Holla Bend National Wildlife Refuge on the Arkansas River in Arkansas, where a pair of Canada geese which successfully raised a young gosling in captivity last year are on their way to a repeat performance this year.

It was announced Saturday the Jacksonville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will attend a three-day circuit assembly at the National Guard Armory in Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 7-9.

Harry Good, Belvidere, will speak Sept. 9th.

According to Ray Hacker, local preaching minister, the Jacksonville group just returned last week from a district meeting in Peoria, Ill., to which delegates came from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, and Missouri to reach a total attendance of 4,980 on the final day.

BAPTIST PASTOR AT CHANDLERVILLE TO LEAVE PULPIT

CHANDLERVILLE — Rev. Paul Martin, pastor the past year and over of the Chandlerville Baptist church, has resigned his charge.

Rev. Martin and his family will remain here for an indefinite time, unless he is called to a church not too great a distance. The family plans to move to California at a later date. Rev. Martin is a carpenter and painter and has contracted for much work to be completed before leaving the community.

Organize 4-H Federation In Calhoun County

HARDIN — Under the direction of Calhoun County Farm Adviser Robert Lahne and Home Adviser Mrs. Peter W. Simon, 4-H club members 15 years of age and older organized a Calhoun County 4-H Federation Thursday evening at the Farm Bureau building here.

The business meeting followed a 6:30 p.m. picnic supper.

Leonard Fortschneider of Golden Eagle was elected president of the federation. Fred Herter of Golden Eagle was elected vice president. Ada Mae Herter, also of Golden Eagle, secretary; and David Jennings of Kampsville, treasurer. Judy Held of Brussels was elected reporter, and Patty Hanks of Hardin was named recreation chairman.

Home economics and agricultural clubs of the county have combined to form the federation which is organized to provide older members with a wider area of activity, resulting in opportunities to make friendships, to develop leadership, to improve citizenship, and to increase interest in 4-H work in the county.

The council set the first Monday night of alternate months as the regular meeting time for the federation. Meetings will start at 7:30 p.m., and the first regular meeting will be Monday, Oct. 1. Although only the older 4-H members serve on the council, all 4-H members in the county automatically become members of the federation.

The first major project planned by the council is a refreshment stand at the Calhoun Apple Festival and Junior Fair in September. Albert Herter, Jr. was named chairman of the committee to plan this project.

Showing in both the open and Land of Lincoln classes, their entries placed, as follows: Senior Boar, 1st and 2nd in both the open and Lincoln classes; Junior yearling boar, 6th in open and 3rd in Lincoln; Senior spring boar, 1st and 4th in open, 1st and 3rd in Lincoln; Junior spring boar, 2nd and 17th in open; 1st and 17th in Lincoln; Junior yearling sow, 2nd in both open and Lincoln; Senior spring gilt, 6th and 19th in open, 3rd and 15th in Lincoln; Junior spring gilt, 8th and 19th in open, 5th and 15th in Lincoln; Heavy weight barrow, 2nd in both classes; Light weight barrow, 7th in open, 5th in Lincoln.

The first place Senior spring boar, shown by the Hanbacks, was Junior champion in both open and Lincoln classes, and was also reserve grand champion in Lincoln class. Breeders from Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, and Wisconsin added to the competition, with Mrs. Cecelia Neville of Lafayette, Ind., judging the show.

The Grand Champion boar was LVH Model 200, the Senior champion, shown by Bill Williams from Indiana, and was one of the top boars sold in the Hanback's 1961 spring sale.

STATE FEDERATION CLUBS TO GIVE PROCEDURE COURSE

Mrs. Oliver Chambers of Bluffs, press chairman of the 20th District Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, has received announcement that the IFWC will present a course in parliamentary procedure this fall. Classes are scheduled to take place in the Federation Headquarters, 30 W. Washington Street, Chicago on four consecutive Fridays, Sept. 7, 14, 21 and 28 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Mrs. Percy M. Clark of LaGrange, IFWC Parliamentarian, will conduct the course. Mrs. Clark is a registered parliamentarian, an active member of the National Association of Parliamentarians, and president of the Chicago Association of Parliamentarians. She has had many years of experience in teaching and serving as parliamentarian for both state and local organizations. For the past nine years, she has been convention parliamentarian for the New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs and has served the Illinois Federation as chairman of revisions.

This opportunity to be informed in parliamentary procedure is open to any member of the Federation by sending her registration to the IFWC Headquarters.

SNOW PLOW MISSING

City police are looking for a missing snow plow described as 6-feet wide, painted red and weighing 390 pounds.

The implement was reported missing from the Watkins Sales and Service Company, 1111 West Morton Road, Saturday morning.

Best theories indicate the snow blade was removed from the premises during the night Friday or early Saturday. The blade attached to a Ford tractor.

Although chicken and turkey need to have their skin rubbed with fat before roasting, duck and goose do not.

CLOTHING WORKERS UNION HEADS

Members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 199, held their 20th annual picnic and outing Saturday at MacMurray Cabin on East Vandavia Road. Starting with a parade from J. Capps & Sons factory at 10:30 a.m., approximately 50 cars took part in the line of decorated vehicles. Some 500 members of the union, their families and retired employees were on hand at noon to take part in a chicken and ham dinner on the lawn. Games for the children and entertainment for adults occupied the afternoon. From left in picture: Denzel Day, vice president; Louis Chiostra, business agent from Chicago; Harold Lahr, secretary-treasurer; Nick Marsella, manager of the St. Louis joint board; and Raymond Drum, president of Local 199.

BACK YARD DOG SHOW SATURDAY

A number of enterprising youngsters living in the 1000 block of West College and adjoining neighborhoods held a dog show Saturday afternoon with a number of dogs and show personnel on hand.

Three classes with the following prizes going to those showing: costume, 1-Ann Warren, 2-Mary Alice Hughes; dogs on leash, 1-Rosemary Warren, 2-Cindy Newcomb, 3-Mary Alice Hughes; best groomed, 1-Mary Alice Hughes, 2-Carol McLean, 3-Cindy Newcomb. The weather proved to be ideal for a pet show and plenty of refreshments were on hand for the young show personnel. There was also a quantity of dog food for the pets.

Mrs. Clarence Quintal served as judge for the show held at the Warren home at 1011 West College. The ability to bring two vehicles into physical contact in orbit means a spaceship can be refueled for the journey to the moon.

Many Serious Problems Must Be Solved Before Man Makes Journey To Moon

By RALPH DIGHTON

The Soviet feat of rocketing two manned satellites into close orbits points up a serious problem that lies ahead for both Soviet and U.S. scientists.

That problem is bringing satellites, say these experts, is perhaps 18,000 miles an hour—into actual physical contact with each other. Until such a technique is perfected, say some U.S. space experts, last week's achievement is incomplete.

Physical contact between satellites, say these experts, is perhaps the most dangerous part of the journey to the moon.

First, there is the hazard of impact at excessive speed during incredibly complicated maneuvers in space.

Second, and less publicized, is the peril of an electrical discharge from one satellite to the other, a lightning-like bolt of several thousand volts, capable of destroying one or both vehicles.

A U.S. space scientist who cannot be named points out that the Soviet Union has not claimed the two satellites actually touched and adds: "She undoubtedly would if they had because this maneuver, called docking, is one of the milestones in the race to the moon."

The United States already has ruled out direct flight to the moon. The giant Nova booster which could take men and their return vehicle to the moon non-stop will not be ready in time to meet President Kennedy's "within this decade" deadline. The Soviet Union apparently has ruled out direct flight, too, because it is already practicing rendezvous in orbit.

The ability to bring two vehicles into physical contact in orbit means a spaceship can be refueled for the journey to the moon.

This rendezvous can be accomplished either close to the earth or close to the moon. Which technique the Soviets eventually will adopt is not known.

U.S. planners, however, favor lunar orbit. They say they can put men on the moon two years sooner this way than would be possible from earth orbit.

Current U.S. plans call for launching a single big rocket into orbit around the moon and sending men down from it in a smaller vehicle called a "bug." The "bug" would return the men to the big rocket, and an upper stage of the big rocket then would separate and bring the men home.

Sometime next year Gemini spacecraft, similar to Mercury capsules but large enough for two men, will start practicing for the delicate, critical task of bringing two space craft into physical contact.

Successful rendezvous and docking will open a new era. Only with perfection of this technique can men fulfill the plan ordered for this country's first moon landing. Only in this way can giant space stations, needed as take-off points for manned planetary jumps, be assembled in orbit. Only in this way can astronaut be rescued from disabled craft.

Militarily, this is the only way "sky spy" satellites can be repaired: it is the surest way to inspect and if necessary destroy hostile satellite.

"This knob at your right hand," he is saying, "is the attitude control. With it you can fire small rockets which make your vehicle pitch up or down, yaw to right or left, or roll to right or left."

"The lever at your left hand controls your thrust. It is in a box which slides backward or forward and this motion of the box controls backward or forward thrust of the vehicle. The lever can be swiveled and this fires rockets which send you in whatever direction you point the lever.

"In front of you is an electronic screen with two circles on it. The closer you come to the target, the larger the circles become."

"One of the circles represents the nose of your vehicle. The other represents the docking area in the target. You must bring the two circles together and at the same time keep your speed down so that you don't wreck yourself on impact."

You remember it took you many hours of practice over a period of weeks to achieve a satisfactory docking maneuver. Some of the other students in your research group took even longer. They were former pilots who kept trying to think in terms of straight lines instead of curves. But now, you're not in a mock up in a laboratory. You're in a spaceship. Your target is traveling in the same orbital plane at the same speed, some 3,000 feet behind you.

You've got it all worked out. You're going to push the thrust control box forward and at the same time push the left hand lever up for upward thrust.

This gives you a little hop and drops you in close behind the target's docking face.

You extend a telescoping metal probe toward the target, almost far enough to touch it—if you were pointed in the right direction. But you aren't. During the short hop your ship has yawed a few degrees to the left.

With your right hand lever you swing the nose of your ship, and the probe, back to center. With the left-hand control you thrust slowly ahead, inch by inch.

The probe enters the target hole and guides the nose of your craft into the docking port.

You flip a switch and the two vehicles lock together magnetically.

Mission accomplished.

You pull away, hit the retro-rockets again and fall out of orbit on the long plunge back to earth. All you did was to jockey a space craft through a simple maneuver, but in so doing you gave all men a tremendous shove toward the stars.

One problem is what to do about the anticipated extremely powerful electrical discharge from the target vehicle to the chase craft—potentially strong enough to destroy the craft and its occupants.

Air force scientists have learned that objects in orbit tend to pick up an electrical charge. Free electrons, knocked loose from the atoms of the space vehicle by solar and cosmic radiation, set up a current through any conductive material in the craft. The longer the vehicle has been in orbit, the stronger the charge. Measurements show some satellites have built up potentials of several thousand volts.

Suppose another electrically conductive object, such as a chase vehicle, approaches. Not having been in orbit as long as the target fuel tanker, it has a lower electrical potential.

The electrical charge in the tanker may be over to the chase vehicle, killing its occupants, perhaps exploding its fuel.

Best solutions advanced to date: (1) Rocket a copper wire from the chaser to the target at long range, so the electrical charge in the target can leak slowly to the chaser. This would equalize their electrical potential and prevent a catastrophic discharge. (2) From power sources on board the chaser, build up its electrical charge to equal that of the target. Research and ingenuity may come up with even better solutions.

Another problem of surprising complexity is how to bring two objects together in orbit. Let's suppose you're the pilot in a Gemini capsule, trying to make contact with an Agena tanker in orbit.

Your target was launched into 150-mile-high orbit several days ago. Its precise path through the skies has been plotted and your craft has been fired into a position 3,000 feet ahead of it.

You're in orbit 3,000 feet ahead of your target. You and the target are traveling at the same speed—18,000 miles an hour.

It would seem simple—that all you have to do is slow down and let the Agena catch up with you. You figure that by firing a small rocket at the front of your vehicle you can slow your speed five miles an hour. This would allow the Agena to overtake you in 10 to 12 minutes.

All right, do that. You fire a rocket, but suddenly you see you're not moving toward the Agena, but farther away from it.

How come? What has happened is this: When you changed your speed you also changed your orbit. With retro-fire you have slowed your speed and fallen into a lower orbit below and behind the target vehicle.

Now you've got to catch up with it. You fire a rocket at the tail of your craft to increase your speed.

Now you're above and ahead of your target. What you've forgotten is this: You've been trying to reach your target by going in a straight line and in orbit there are no straight lines. Your target is moving in a curved line around the earth and to reach it you too must travel in a curved line. How do you do this? You bend your path by firing rockets beneath your craft with exactly enough upward force to adjust your altitude, while retro-rockets are at the same time exerting a push along the curved orbit toward the target.

Now you try again, determined to remember all you learned in long hours of practice on an orbital vernal around the country, but the one you used happened to be at Space Technology Laboratories in Los Angeles, and you remember Dr. George Rekey explaining the controls.

Mrs. Hubert John Fricke

Labor Day will feature a double-header at Chicago's Comiskey Park between the White Sox and the Cleveland Indians. Cleveland will remain in Chicago to clash with the White Sox in night games Sept. 4-5.

Barbara White Now Mrs. Hubert Fricke

Glowing tapers in candelabra and greenery adorned the altar of the Chapin Christian church for the afternoon ceremony last Sunday, August nineteenth, when Miss Barbara Jean White became the bride of Hubert John Fricke. The double ring ceremony was performed at three o'clock by the Reverend Edward Felsa.

Miss Shirley Fricke, niece of the groom, presided at the organ and accompanied Alan Anderson, cousin of the bride, who sang.

Mrs. Jess Covey of Sherman, Texas served her sister as matron of honor and Mrs. Ernest Detmer of Chapin was bridesmaid. They wore conventional length dresses of two-tone blue nylon sheer over taffeta. Headdresses and shoes matched their costumes and each carried a crescent of blue tipped white carnations.

Orval Fricke attended his brother as best man and the groomsmen were Eugene Nienhiser, Ushers were Kenneth Fricke, brother of the groom, and Charles White, brother of the bride, and Byron Ommen, nephew of the groom.

The bride wore a floor length gown of French lace and net over taffeta base. A pearl studded lace crown held the bride's illusion veil and she carried white and blue feathered carnations in a cascade.

The bride's mother wore pastel blue with white and the groom's mother dark blue with blending accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidiums orchids.

Receive 200

Two hundred guests were received at a reception held at the church. Assisting were Mrs. Orin Hynes and Mrs. Allen Six, sisters of the bride; Miss Lorna Fricke, Mrs. Raymond Fricke and Mrs. Marvin Ommen, sisters of the groom; Mrs. Orval Fricke and Mrs. Kenneth Fricke, sisters-in-law; Mrs. Loren Brockhouse, Miss Lucille Ommen and Miss Sharon Ommen, the latter nieces of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Earl White of Chapin and the late Mr. White. Mr. Fricke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fricke, also of Chapin.

Both the bride and groom attended Chapin High School. She is employed at Walker Hardware in Jacksonville. Mr. Fricke is engaged in farming northwest of Chapin where the couple will reside, upon their return from a honeymoon in Western states.

SATURDAY EVENING OPENING
NEW YORK # — Saturday is the new favorite opening date for Broadway shows.

Five productions already have picked the last day of the week for premiere arguing that press critics, unable to appear in print locally until Monday editions, will be more deliberate in expressing opinions on a show's merits.

Weddings PARTIES and CLUBS

Mrs. Ray Gary Harris

Wed In Morgan Couple To Mark Golden Date

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Benson of Springfield, Missouri, former residents of Jersey county, will observe the golden anniversary of their wedding on Friday, August 31st.

Their marriage took place in Jacksonville, Illinois, the 31st day of August, 1912. Before her marriage, Mrs. Benson was Miss Bertina Lowe, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowe of the Jerseyville vicinity.

The parents of Mr. Benson were the late Mr. and Mrs. Butler Benson who came to Jersey county from the Jacksonville vicinity and purchased a farm northeast of Jerseyville in the Victory school vicinity. Upon retirement from farming, they moved to Jerseyville and made their home.

Following the marriage of Mr. Benson and Miss Lowe, the couple made their home for a time in Jerseyville and later farmed in the low vicinity. They are now residing at 1601 West Atlantic street, Springfield, Missouri.

They are the parents of three daughters: Mrs. Harry Glass, Santa Monica, California; Mrs. O. E. Saunders, Hammond, Indiana; and Mrs. Earle Harvey, Bronson, Missouri. They have ten grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Mrs. Benson has one brother, Frank Lowe, who resides in Granite City.

Mrs. Cora Dikis, Edwin Nortrup Wed In Greene

WHITE HALL—Mrs. Cora Dikis and Edwin Nortrup, both of White Hall, were married at the Dikis home Saturday afternoon, Aug. 18th, by the Reverend Ruth Garrison.

Mrs. Bruce Lamine, daughter of the groom, and Kallon Lemons, nephew of the bride, attended the couple. The bride wore blue with white and carried a white Bible. Her flowers were pink and white carnations.

A wedding supper was served at Single's Ranchhouse near Winchester complete with a decorated wedding cake. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Kallon Lemons and Miss Joyce Nortrup, the latter, daughter of the bridegroom.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home on Forest street in White Hall. The groom is employed by the Wagon railroad.

Bonnie Dunmire Bride Of Gary Harris Of Anna

On Saturday evening, August eighteenth, at the home of the bride's parents in this city Miss Bonnie Lea Dunmire became the bride of Gary Ray Harris of Anna, Illinois. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend C. E. Cox, pastor of First Church of God, who used the double ring service.

Members of the immediate families and a few close friends attended.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Dunmire, 754 Freedman street and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harris of Anna.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely bouffant gown of white embroidered organza studded with crystal beads. Her blusher veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and she carried a cascade of white carnations centering an orchid corsage.

Miss Gratta Dickman was maid of honor and wore a bouffant gown of deep pink organza with crystal and pearl adornment. She carried a cascade of pink and white carnations.

Reinhold Renmel, Springfield, was best man.

The mother of the bride wore yellow, with white accessories and the mother of the groom, was in aqua with white accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Guests were registered by Miss Jacqueline Manker. A reception was held at the home following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Eula Gunther and Miss Helen Lewis.

Following a short wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home at Anna, Illinois.

Prominent Demo Chairwoman To Attend Luncheon

Miss Mary White of Bloomington, Democratic State Central chairwoman of Illinois, will attend the Tuesday luncheon, Aug. 28th in this city when Morgan county Democratic women will honor Mrs. Sidney Yates of Chicago, wife of the Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate.

NEW YORK # — A three-one financing plan for off-Broadway productions has been launched by a group called theater Unlimited.

A capitalization of between $75,000 and $100,000 is being sought. The fund would project, a procedure designed to increase investors' chance at profit.

Mrs. William A. Reichart

Reichart - Fitzhugh Wedding At Franklin

FRANKLIN — The Sacred Heart Catholic church here was the scene Saturday morning of the double ring ceremony in which Miss Judith Lynne Fitzhugh became the bride of William A. Reichart. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Fitzhugh, Waverly rural route and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Reichart, New Berlin rural route.

The Reverend Hugh Cassidy performed the ceremony in which Mr. Fitzhugh gave his daughter in marriage.

Guests were seated by Al Lewis of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; John Narmont and Robert Narmont, Auburn, Illinois, cousins of the bride and John Brownback of Springfield.

There were two attendants to the bride, her sister, Nancy, maid of honor and Miss Michele Evancko of Greenville, as bridesmaid. Lawrence Reichart attended his brother as best man and Michael Fitzgerald, Springfield, Illinois, and James Doyle, St. Louis, Missouri, were the other members of the groom's party.

The bride wore a fitted formal wedding gown of white peau de soie with re-embroidered Alencon lace. A jeweled wing crown held her veil of silk illusion and she carried a hand bouquet of stephanotis and ivy centered with orchids.

The attendants to the bride were gowned identically in street length sheath gowns of ice blue peau de soie with matching overskirts. They carried bouquets of carnations, with stephanotis and ivy fashioned in the form of crosses.

The mother of the bride chose a beige ensemble with gardenias for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother wore a rose lace costume with gardenias.

Reception At Hall
A reception at the Sacred Heart Church Hall followed the eleven o'clock ceremony. Assisting here were Barbara Camm, Janet Chance, Franklin, Cedric Reichart, New Berlin; Mrs. Gene Pigott, Jacksonville; Mrs. Jerome Langdon, Murfreesboro; Misses Mary Sharley and Marie Perona, Springfield; Carol Pillar, Chicago; and Caroline Narmont, Auburn. Miss Dru White, Chicago, classmate of the bride, registered guests.

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK AP—Typical pre-weekend profit taking left the stock market irregularly lower in quiet trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 225.8 with industrials down 1.1, rails off .1 and utilities off .3.

Key stocks were unchanged to fractionally lower for the most part. Some higher priced, or more volatile issues which have made big gains recently were down a point or more.

Brokers said that the market, having surged back to recover all losses since the sharp plunge of "Black Monday," May 28, was in a vulnerable position. This, combined with the normal unwillingness of traders to be caught out on a lull after the weekend, dampened trading spirit.

The trend was moderately lower among many leading groups, including steel, motors, chemicals, oils, rubbers and electrical equipments. Drugs were also off a bit on balance showing no unusual reaction to legislation by the Senate of tighter regulation on prescription drugs.

IBM continued under mild profit taking following its run up this week. The stock was off a point or so, remaining well above the significant 400 level.

The latest cigarette-cancer story linking filter tip cigarettes with cancer in mice had no particular effect on tobacco shares which traded unchanged to slightly lower, along with many other stocks.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.56 at 612.44. Utilities led corporate bonds higher. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to a shade lower over the counter.

Great Confederate Team Goes On Attack At Second Manassas

POPE'S ARMY IN RETREAT AS SKETCHED BY A CONTEMPORARY ARTIST

By PHILIP VAN DOREN STERN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When the three men came out of the Confederate White House in Richmond on July 13, 1862, few before McClellan could arrive. His people in that city realized that intentions were accidentally be- one of the most fruitful confer- ences of the Civil War had just been held. President Jefferson Davis said farewell to the two gen- erals who were about to go to the front. Lee, as always, was in full uniform with polished boots and fine spurs. But Stonewall Jack- son was poorly dressed. All ob- servers said that "this cap- tain" was pulled down one eye and his coat showed signs of much exposure to the weather.

No clear-cut plan of action had been adopted at the conference. The three men knew that the Pope's army, under the new com- mander, John Pope, was moving southward to Culpeper Courthouse. There was no time to lose.

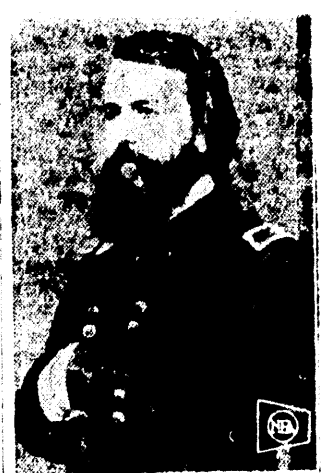

So far, the Confederates had been on the defensive, content to hold off Union attacks at First Manassas or Bull Run, in July, 1861, and in the battles around Second Manassas in June, 1862. McClellan's army, badly mauled but still a threat to the Confederate cap- ital, was quartered on the James River near Harrison's Landing. Pope's separate force of nearly 50,000 men, called the Army of Vir- ginia, had been assembled from old units and fresh recruits. It was in the area around Culpeper.

Pope got off to a bad start on July 14 when he compared his Eastern troops unfavorably with those in the West. And he an- ticipated Southern civilians by an- nouncing a "get-tough" policy for non-combatants.

Lee's major problem at this time was to prevent McClellan and Pope from joining forces. Together they would have more than twice as many troops as he could muster. He sent Jackson to Gordonsville, where he would soon have about 20,000 men in his command. On Aug. 7, Jackson's spies informed him that Pope was heading south, close to stop them. Jackson's hand- hurled north to meet him, ran into the advance of the Union Army at Cedar Mountain on the 9th, and won a quick victory there which startled the North.

Meanwhile, Lee was pinned down near Richmond, keeping watch on McClellan. Instantly told him that the army at Harrison's Landing was no longer a real threat, but he had to wait until he could be sure. On Aug. 12, mat- ters came to a head. Lee heard that Burnside had taken about 12,000 troops from Fort Monroe to Fredericksburg. Now he learned that this force had gone on to join Pope. On the same day a deserter brought word that McClellan had abandoned the Peninsula and was moving men and supplies by ship to Aquia Creek on the Potomac.

After sending Longstreet with 19 brigades to Jackson, Lee left Richmond on Aug. 15, bound for Gordonsville. He met Jackson there and went into a council of war with him. Longstreet and Stuart, together they planned the whirlwind campaign that was to be known as Second Manassas because it was fought on the same ground as the first. Lee's plans were necessarily fluid at this time, but one thing was certain: he had to attack Pope before McClellan could arrive. McClellan's army, badly mauled but still a threat to the Confederate cap- ital, was quartered on the James River near Harrison's Landing. Pope's separate force of nearly 50,000 men, called the Army of Vir- ginia, had been assembled from old units and fresh recruits. It was in the area around Culpeper.

Pope got off to a bad start on July 14 when he compared his Eastern troops unfavorably with those in the West. And he an- ticipated Southern civilians by an- nouncing a "get-tough" policy for non-combatants.

Lee's major problem at this time was to prevent McClellan and Pope from joining forces. Together they would have more than twice as many troops as he could muster. He sent Jackson to Gordonsville, where he would soon have about 20,000 men in his command. On Aug. 7, Jackson's spies informed him that Pope was heading south, close to stop them. Jackson's hand- hurled north to meet him, ran into the advance of the Union Army at Cedar Mountain on the 9th, and won a quick victory there which startled the North.

Meanwhile, Lee was pinned down near Richmond, keeping watch on McClellan. Instantly told him that the army at Harrison's Landing was no longer a real threat, but he had to wait until he could be sure. On Aug. 12, mat- ters came to a head. Lee heard that Burnside had taken about 12,000 troops from Fort Monroe to Fredericksburg. Now he learned that this force had gone on to join Pope. On the same day a deserter brought word that McClellan had abandoned the Peninsula and was moving men and supplies by ship to Aquia Creek on the Potomac.

After sending Longstreet with 19 brigades to Jackson, Lee left Richmond on Aug. 15, bound for Gordonsville. He met Jackson there and went into a council of war with him. Longstreet and Stuart, together they planned the whirlwind campaign that was to be known as Second Manassas be-

His people in that city realized that intentions were accidentally be- one of the most fruitful confer- ences of the Civil War had just been held. President Jefferson Davis said farewell to the two gen- erals who were about to go to the front. Lee, as always, was in full uniform with polished boots and fine spurs. But Stonewall Jack- son was poorly dressed. All ob- servers said that "this cap- tain" was pulled down one eye and his coat showed signs of much exposure to the weather.

No clear-cut plan of action had been adopted at the conference. The three men knew that the Pope's army, under the new com- mander, John Pope, was moving southward to Culpeper Courthouse. There was no time to lose.

So far, the Confederates had been on the defensive, content to hold off Union attacks at First Manassas or Bull Run, in July, 1861, and in the battles around Second Manassas in June, 1862. McClellan's army, badly mauled but still a threat to the Confederate cap- ital, was quartered on the James River near Harrison's Landing. From the Jacksonville Journal
A DASTARDLY DEED

REBEL INCENDIARIES -- On Monday night Mr. Jonas Scott, born near Old Franklin, was burned to the ground together with its contents. The fire was discovered about half past ten o'clock. The barn was of good size, nearly new, and well filled with unthreshed oats, and 100 barrels of corn, farming utensils, etc. One fine steer tied in a stall was held there until the rope burned in two, when he escaped. One side of his head and body being burned to a crisp. Loss about one thousand dollars, no insur- ance.

Mr. Scott is well known as one of the best citizens of Morgan County. He is also a strong Union man, and on this account rebel in the vicinity had threatened, a short time since, that his house or barn would be burned inside of two months. It will thus be seen that the incendiary torch of the Northern rebel has been ap- plied to the property of a local citizen of Morgan County. The threat which had so often been insinuated by the sympathetic secession press, and the threat made by unprincipled individuals, that retaliation would commence and be executed upon Union men in Northern states, is already being executed and it becomes every community to be upon their watch, and guard against any further surprise. There is no punishment too speedy or severe for the cowardly midnight secession rebel. Let him be searched out, at what ever expense or trouble it may require, and such an example made of him as will drive terror to the hearts of others who may meditate like offenses.

THE WAVERLY COMPANY -- The company, Robert McKee commanding, went into camp here last Tuesday. They number 94 rank and file, and are as fine a body of men as we ever saw. Captain McKee is well known here. He was for some time an attaché of this office, and will be remembered for the many piquant "local" that appeared in the Way Journal at that time. The Way boys could not have made a better selection in their choice for Captain.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES -- All persons wishing their names an- nounced as candidates for office at the coming November election, must accompany such notice with ONE DOLLAR to insure its in- sertion.

UNION CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF -- We are requested to announce JONATHAN NEELY as a candidate for Sheriff of Morgan County at the November election.

Mr. Neely pledges himself, if elected, to donate all his commis- sion as collector of the revenue, of said County and Special Bounty tax, to the support of the families of soldiers from Morgan County. The said commission will be paid over by him to the county Court, to be by them distributed by the committee appointed by them to distribute the County's appropriation.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: Two new military compen- ses, Kimman's and Capt. S. J. Newman's, have been raised in Morgan, but as the regiment will be full without them they will be attached to some other regiment. The Morgan county regiment is a fine body of men, and officers, so far as our knowledge extends, are gentlemen. We wish them suc- cess in battling for the Constitu- tion as it is, and the restoration of the Union under its provisions.

Elder W. S. Russell will preach at the Fair Grounds to the Vol- unteers, on Sunday at 3 o'clock. The public are invited to attend. A large procession of wagons filled by ladies and gents, headed by the Lynnville Band, left town on Wednesday morning to attend the Sabbath school picnic at Wol- cott's prairie, a few miles south of town.

USEFUL HINT TO SOLDIERS -- Lemon juice is a great assuage- ment of thirst, and a lemon taken on the battle-field may save the soldier indescribable torment. It is a simple expedient. Try it. The gallant Col. Corcoran, after an imprisonment of 18 months among the rebels, has finally been released, and we hope soon to see him at the head of a new Irish brigade, demanding from the rebels the reason of his cruel expec- tion from the usages of war.

CROPS ABROAD -- The latest re- ports from the harvests in Europe indicate a decided failure in quan- tity and quality of the crop, owing to cold, wet weather. In England the crop will fall below the aver- age; France, Italy, Portugal, Aus- tria and Germany generally have a bad yield, and there is every rea- son to believe that the heavy de- mand of last season on this coun- try for food will be fully sustained for the coming year. This will be another inducement to Europe to mind its own business, and keep out of a quarrel with the country which feeds it.

EFFECTS OF THE DRAPEL ON THE HAIR DYE TRADE -- The hair dye trade is prostrated. No- body, except some ancient female has used the article since the call was made for all men "under 40 years of age." Gray hairs are get- ting fashionable, and men grow old suddenly in three days.

ANNOUNCEMENT -- New modern Maytag Lau- dromat now open. So mod- ern you don't even use money.

Shriners Provide Care For Children With Brittle Bones

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP) -- You walk across a carpet of close-cropped grass and step into an incredible little world: a hospital where no- body is sick and where corridors are lit with the laughter of

This is the Chicago Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, a two-story, brick, colonial building in a park-like setting on the city's northwest side.

This too is the cradle of rod- ding and fragmentation surgery for youngsters with fragile bones. That gives it a distinctive mark among all 17 Shriners hospitals and others that make in ortho- pedics.

To this hospital come patients from everywhere in the United States. One tiny boy, who cracked ribs when he coughed, was cus- tioned in foam rubber on his plane ride to town. A small girl's right arm was so misshapen she could scratch her right elbow with the fingers of her right hand. A school-age lad never had known the prosaic pleasure of walking.

These and other youngsters suf- fered from osteogenesis imper- fecta. The condition makes their bones so brittle they might be broken by the slightest shock -- even a vigorous turnover in bed. Often, in knitting, limbs took grotesque shapes.

Chicago Shriners Hospital, short- ly after World War II, pioneered in rodding operations for correct- ing deformities caused by osteo- genesis imperfecta. In the proce- dure, a length of bone is re- moved and cut into sections. The sections are strung on a stainless steel rod, like wooden beads are strung on wire, and placed back in the body. The parts are se- cured by the metal plates and support.

A Soxford is chief surgeon. He does more such operations -- more than 400 to date -- than any other. The staff strives to build up con- fidence while surgeons rebuild little bodies.

"Some youngsters may have been overprotected at home," said Mabel Ramspeck, the adminis- trator. "So we encourage them to do everything they can do."

There are parties and buffets, cakes, movies once a week. Boy and Girl Scout groups, boy and games and stamp reading and sewing clubs.

During free periods children well along the road to recovery propel their wheelchairs, tricycles and mobile stretchers up and down the long halls, shouting and laughing as they proceed.

But there were so many spur- of-the-moment races that the staff recently put some patients on safety patrol duty to whistle down speeders. Officers draw a fine: a week without candy. It's quite a deterrent.

The cause of these brittle bones is unknown. Improvement is a matter of degree and depends, in part, on the natural quality of the bones. At worst, one spokesman said, rod- ded kids can brush their teeth and feed themselves without fear of fracture. At best, he added they can "engage in gentle athletics."

No child is accepted unless the parents are unable to pay. This doesn't imply poverty. Even fam- ilies in comfortable circumstances would be pressed to meet any bills or long-term care.

Once the youngster is admitted, everything is free. The 60-bed hospital is operated and financed by the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

WIN TALENT FIND CONTEST AT U OF I

PITTSFIELD -- Charles Serbold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Serbold and Fred Kern son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kern, both grad- uates of this year's Pittsfield High school class of 1962, were in Champlain on Wednesday where they entered the Illinois State Sports Festival, sponsored by the Farm Bureau and they played a piano duet at the University. They were one of 12 finalists in the "Talent Find" contest. This won for them an all expense trip to Chicago in November to the State Convention of Illinois Agri- cultural Association, where they will compete in the State finals contest. Both boys leave around the first of September for college. Fred goes to Iowa state at Ames, Iowa and Charles to Normal University at Normal.

BEATTY BLUFFS JUNGLE CATS

Wild animals can be trained but not tamed, says Clyde Beatty, whose great group of perform- ing black-maned Numidian lions and Royal Bengal tigers engage him twice daily in grim games of will power.

For each jungle beast is a rebel ever waiting to strike the man who with long, slow, steady hands for an instant let down his guard.

Beatty, battling and subjugating a score of the elusive creatures to every performance of the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus, America's largest, has become world famous as their trainer, but his life is in jeopardy the moment he forgets they're untamed. They perform incredible feats for him because, he states, he has them bluffed. "They think I am as tough as a cat," Clyde adds, smiling.

There have been many attacks. Clyde long since stopped counting his scars. "They're not seri- ous," he laughs.

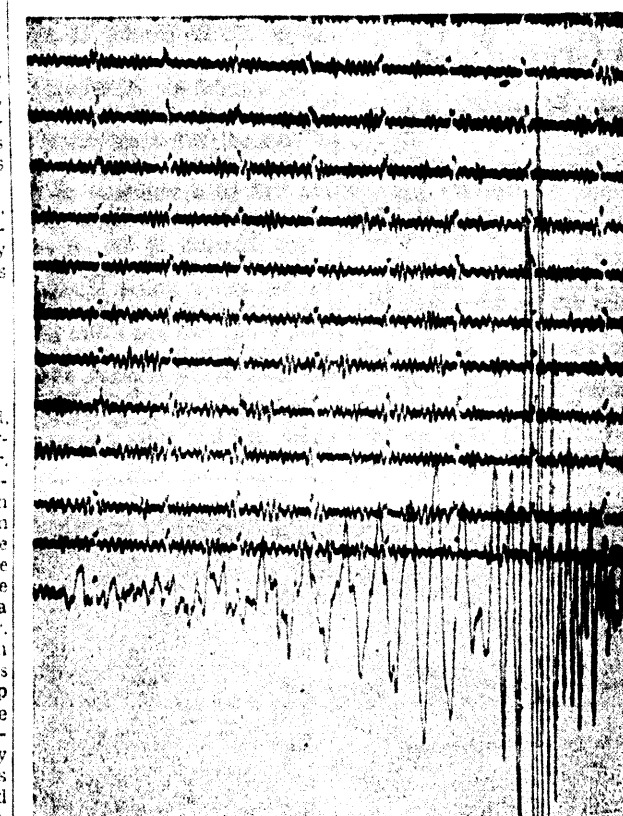

There are 600 people with the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus, and they perform in a grandiose way, aerial, ground and wild artists.

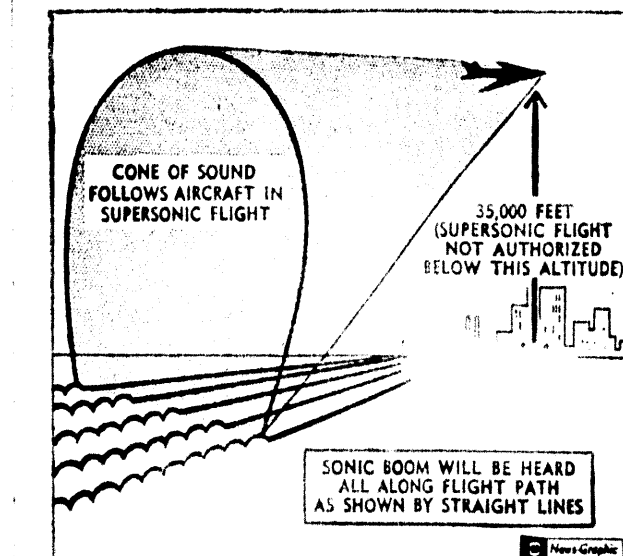

REBEL HERO--Espartaco Santoni, a handsome Spanish actor, plays the role of a 10th-century rebel who saves ancient Castile from invaders in a new film, "Valley of the Swords," now being enacted before the cameras in Spain.

BREAKING POINT--A group of scientists and fishing ex- perts give serious attention to a special machine that is testing how much snap it takes to break a line. The fish don't seem able to interpret the calculations because some- times they break the line when they strike too hard.

LISTENING POST--Seismogram recorded by Dr. Markus Bath, head of the Seismological Institution at Sweden's Uppsala University, shows violence of the Russian 37-mega- ton super-bomb exploded over the arctic island of Novaya Zemlya in 1961. Note long marks showing at end of strip.

SOUND OF '60s--Promise of a sonic boom is shown in dia- gram above. Flying at speeds of 1200 to 1400 m.p.h., mod- ern Air Force planes trail a continuous cone of sound--up to 50 miles wide--across the country. Because of the great speed, air is piled up in front of a plane, creating a shock wave. The wave trails the plane, lowering air pressure. When air rushes back to normal, the noise occurs, much as thunder is caused by lightning. Structural damage from jets above 35,000 feet is impossible, the Air Force says.

The National Wildlife Federa- tion notes that an article by Wes- ley L. Long in the August-Septem- ber 1962 issue of Natural His- tory magazine describes the use of a radar unit similar to that used by highway patrolmen to de- tect speed law violators to deter- mine accurately the flight speed of wild birds. Maximum speed re- corded by the "speed trap" was 100 miles per hour. He won with technique for various species of birds. The birds were near- ly all "domestic" birds, such as Starlings, Mockers, Robins, etc. The birds were trained to fly in a straight line, and the radar unit was used to measure their speed.

JACKSON'S MEN USE STONES WHEN AMMUNITION RUNS OUT

Some of the most desperate fighting at Second Manassas took place along a railroad cut which part of Jackson's First Brigade was using as a defensive position. When the troops ran out of ammuni- tion they picked up rocks and broken staves from the railroad bed and hurled them at the oncom- ing Federals. This stopped the advance long enough for reinforcements to be brought in with out- rigger ammunition, to drive the Federals back.

Mrs. Luketich has accepted a position with the State Department of Colorado with headquarters in Denver, starting September 1st and will be a supervisor in the Secondary Education Department.

Mrs. Luketich is the former Barbara Jane Shields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Shields of Greenfield. They have three children, Craig, Stan and Claire Ann, and have purchased a home and will reside at 4010 Marshall, Wheat Ridge, Colo., a suburb of Denver. Mr. Luketich is one of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Luketich of Roxana.

Sue Settles, White Hall, James, E. Vinyard Wed

WHITE HALL — Arrangements of gladioli and greenery adorned the altar of the First Christian church here last Sunday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Sue Ellen Settles and James Earl Vinyard in which the pastor, Reverend Ruth Garrison, received the vows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Settles, 107 First Avenue and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Vinyard of 100 North Carr street.

Guests were seated by Gary Settles, brother of the bride, and Carl Bradford. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of gardenia white tulle with a full skirt and a fitted bodice. A queen's crown of pearls and sequins held her veil of illusion and she carried a white Bible overlaid with stephanotis and white orchids. Miss Sherry Allen was bridesmaid and Gary Strawmatt best man.

Miss Allen wore apricot colored taffeta with small matching veiled hat. She carried a nosegay of white carnations. White accessories contrasted with the bride's mother's costume of floral blue crepe and also with the groom's mother's choice of a beige costume. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Reception Follows
A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Guests were registered by the bride's cousin, Miss Linda Cox. Others assisting were Miss Beth Wendell, Miss Karen Howard, Miss Ruth Dikus, Miss Lucille Nash and Mrs. Bauer.

Following their return from a honeymoon in Moscow, Idaho the newlyweds will make their home on Jackson street in White Hall.

Both young people graduated from White Hall High School, the bride in 1962 and the groom in 1958. She is employed at the Schmalz Drug Store in White Hall and he by the Rose Auto Parts, White Hall.

Girl Scout Notes

In just one more week school will be starting and Girl Scout troops will again become reactivated. An exciting year is ahead of us with a change in age groupings beginning.

By the fall of 1963 this change-over is expected to be completed. This year will be spent getting ready for it.

A number of very important events will take place in September. First of all there will be the big Girl Scout rally to be held Saturday, September 15, at 9:30 a.m. at the Illinois Theater in Jacksonville.

Plans are not completed yet but the Roundup girls will be there to tell their exciting story and show their pictures. All registered girls in the whole council area are invited to this rally—brownies and intermediates with senior scouts helping with the leg work. Watch this column for more details.

The three alternate Roundup girls, left Monday for Camp McMullen in Fort Wayne, Indiana, to begin their trip to alternate camp in Ontario, Canada, with several busloads of girls from Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Howard Choate took the girls to Camp McMullen and reported it was a beautiful site with accommodations for the girls in cabins which had wooden floors and roofs and canvas sides.

The girls were excited about the trip to Canada which will last for ten days and will be similar to Roundup held in Vermont in July. Making the trip were Sherri Choate, Mary Margaret Wilsey and Jeanne Hemphill.

These girls, along with the Roundup girls, will tell of their experiences at the Girl Scout rally on September 15.

Volunteers are needed for work with Girl Scouts this fall. Come in to the scout office for an application blank if you are interested. You will find Scouting is a worthwhile part of community affairs. You will have a stake in the future helping girls to become happy, responsible citizens.

A number of Girl Scout troops have been meeting during the summer months; others have taken special trips. Intermediate troop No. 46 of Jonathan Turner school enjoyed a trip to Hannibal, Mo., last week, visiting Mark Twain's cave and other points of interest.

Intermediate troop No. 97 of Carrollton has been enjoying camp-outs this past month. The girls of the troop cooked supper for their families Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Fradenburgh, troop leader.

Some 70 million Americans use tobacco products.

Zobus - Ritchie Wedding Holds Interest Locally

A ceremony Saturday evening, August eleventh, at the Park Presbyterian church in Streator, Illinois, united in marriage Miss Diane Le Ritchie of that city and William J. Zobus of Glenview. Both young people are well known in the Jacksonville area and graduated from Illinois College.

The bride is the daughter of the T. H. Ritchies of Streator.

Young-Kinser Reunion Held At White Hall

WHITE HALL—The annual reunion of the descendants of I. R. and Naomi Young Kinser was held at Lions Park on Sunday with 77 attending. A basket dinner was enjoyed at noon.

Mrs. Jeffrey Knight

Knight-Herzberger Wedding At Virginia

VIRGINIA, ILLINOIS. Mrs. GRACE T. HOLMES, Cor. VIRGINIA—At 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Aug. 19, the Virginia Methodist church was the scene of a lovely candlelight ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Dorothy Herzberger and Jeffrey Knight, both of Virginia.

The double ring service was read by Reverend Robert Rooker before the altar banked with baskets of white gladioli.

Leland Herzberger, brother of the bride, sang, accompanied by William Huffman at the organ. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audace Herzberger, Virginia, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Emilie Knight, Virginia, and John Knight, Springfield.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white silk organza with lace and jewel adornment. Her veil of white illusion fell to the waist from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with a white orchid center.

The bride's attendants were college friends and wore identical street length dresses of aqua silk organza. They carried long-stemmed white roses. The maid of honor was Miss Patricia Woods, of Nottingham, and the bridesmaids were Miss Sue Ramsey, Caladonia, and Miss Barbara Goltz, of Chicago.

The three junior bridesmaids, nieces of the bride, wore white street length dresses of nylon organza. They carried long-stemmed white roses. They were Miss Ann Herzberger, Virginia, Miss Jana Brown, Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Sue Herzberger, Bluff Springs.

The two flower girls, cousins of the groom, wore white embroidered eyelet. They were Miss Mary Brockhouse, Virginia, and Miss Tonia Maddox, Staunton, Ill.

The ringbearer, nephew of the bride, was Master Marc Pausz.

Guests were seated by David Walter, Vern Herzberger, Richard Webster, Douglas Logan and Jim Lamont.

The bride's mother wore blue shantung with blue accessories and a white corsage. The groom's mother wore brown Irish linen and her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Church Reception
The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Assisting were Mrs. Lillian Glenn, Beardstown, aunt of the bride, Miss Barbara Burrus, Arenzville, Miss Mary Rinnann, Virginia, Miss Sue Cherry, Oswego, Ill., and Mrs. Karen Thompson, Virginia, Miss Janet Griffin, Miss Nancy Schaeffer, Miss Beverly Burrus, Miss Connie Sue Schaeffer provided piano music and Miss Martha Coop, Park Forest, Ill., was in charge of the guest book.

Both the bride and groom graduated from the Virginia High School in 1960.

Following a wedding trip, the young couple will be at home at 500 West Main, Urbana, Ill., where they are both students at the University of Illinois.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered with some confidence in the last week, then rallied for a fair gain, crossing an important recovery milestone as it advanced.

Lively trading interest raised volume to 30,493,532 shares from 18,808,440 in the previous week. It was the largest total since the week ended July 14, when 33,073,400 shares changed hands.

In a resumption of the "summer rally," the market rang up its second straight weekly rise as the Dow Jones industrial average gained 3.72 at 613.74.

Aerospace issues and automotive stocks responded to bullish reports, while the steel backed away a "profit squeeze" was underlined by the news that Republic Steel had cut its dividend to 50 cents from 75 cents.

Most of the space age issues were stimulated by news about the huge Titan III rocket project, for which Martin Marietta was named the prime contractor. Many other companies will undoubtedly find themselves working on subcontracts.

What gave the market its biggest shot-in-the-arm, however, was the General Motors prediction that 1963 would be just as good a year for the auto industry as 1962 and that seven million cars would be sold.

This optimism from the market's greatest manufacturing firm, following by a couple of days a forecast by Ford Motor that, although 1963 would be a "good year," new car sales would be likely to decline by 5 to 10 per cent, gave the stock market a lot of gas.

Responding to the GM forecast, investors bowed to vigorous rally which finished the job of erasing all the market's losses since the big plunge of "Black Monday," May 28. By the close on Wednesday, stock averages were back where they stood on May 24.

The Dow Jones industrial average nudged ahead a bit further on Thursday, putting this indicator at 616.00, its top for the week. This was still a long way below the historic high of 734.91 reached Dec. 13, 1961, but it was above this year's closing low of 535.76, reached June 26.

As the week ended, there was mild profit taking in the extremely slow and cautious Friday session. Some market analysts said the market had penetrated into a vulnerable area where a heavy supply of stock was likely to be offered for sale.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks last week advanced 3.5 to 226.4.

On the bond market, corporate registered their best gain in more than a year and a half. U.S. government issues improved for the fourth consecutive week. Corporate volume on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $3,501,000 par value, compared with $2,222,000 the previous week. The 1962 low for a non-holiday week, and $25,631,000 a year ago.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

marketings were rather light again last week but prices were weak to 25 cents a hundred-weight lower despite a good shipper demand.

Most of the supply was in the 100-250 lb range which made the average for the week the lightest since October at 223 lbs. Thus, the offerings were within the range preferred by shippers who usually take 50 per cent or more of the run.

The top of $19.50 was paid on Tuesday but it went for less than fifty head of 204 lb weights.

The cattle supply was the largest for any week in the last six weeks, the largest since January. Prices for slaughter steers were 50 cents to mostly $1 lower all through a few strictly prime grade over 1,200 lb sold steady to 25 cents higher. Offering under 1,100 lb the met most buyer resistance.

The setback for steers and heifers was the first general one in seven weeks.

Offerings on the sheep market more than doubled those of a week ago but choice and prime grade spring slaughter lambs were scarce. Nearly all the run grade cull to good. High choice and prime sold 50 cents lower, and the good to average choice mostly $1 lower.

Chicago (AP) — (USDA) — Following is a summary of the hog, cattle and sheep markets for the week:

Hogs — Compared Friday last week—Barrows and gilts weak to 25 lower. Sows steady to weak. Barrows and gilts: At the close No 1 and 2 200-225 lb 18.75-19.00, on Tuesday, 43 head averaging 204 lbs 19.50 for the week's top. Mixed No 1 1.3 190-240 lbs 18.50-18.75, No 2 and 3 240-270 lbs 18.35-18.50, some No 1 and 2 around 180 lbs 18.00. Sows: Mixed No 1, 1.3 300-350 lbs 18.50-17.50, 350-400 lbs 17.50-17.75, No 2 1.3 300-400 lbs 15.00-16.00.

Cattle — Compared with last Friday: Outside of prime over 1200 lbs steady to 25 higher the general market on slaughter steers 50 to mostly 1.00 lower for the week with weights under 1100 lbs showing the most decline. Heifers, 25-50 lower, cows 50-75 lower, bulls weak to 50 lower. Vealers steady. Slaughter steers: Four loads prime 1275-1435 lb 31.75, mixed 1200-1400 lbs 30.25-31.50, mixed choice and prime er as well as political, economic and military factors, both current and future.

"The evidence that there is a potential for military advantage in space both in the short term and in the long term becomes increasingly apparent with each new major space achievement," he said.

"Public testimony before Congress by the secretary of defense and other members of the Defense Department including the military officers providing testimony to several active projects related to objectives in the field of military space operations," he added.

The spokesman said that, therefore, it is logical that the chief of the defense, in the strategic plans and estimates, the implications and the possibilities of military applications in space; of the threats to the national and free world security that such military applications might pose, and of the capabilities which would be required to meet these threats.

But, the spokesman said, it is difficult to forecast a pattern in development of military space capabilities.

"The inter-relationship of future threats, the requirement for defense in countering threats, the requirement for proof that an existing system can be either replaced or replaced by some entirely new system—and many other considerations which include unknowns—dictate caution in forecasting how long a system must be required or when it might be replaced," he explained.

"However, it is possible to forecast patterns for some potential military space operations. An example is the possibility of combining the missile and space capabilities into an integrated system."

Here the spokesman appeared to be referring to the concept of space vehicle tracking systems set up in connection with U.S. and foreign satellite flights and missile warning systems like the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System which is in operation in the Arctic.

"Similar possibilities of integration are already taking effect in the area of weather forecasting," the spokesman said.

This seemed to mean the use of weather data obtained both from conventional terrestrial observation stations and from the new weather reconnaissance satellites, for use by the military in preparing for missile or satellite launches or for routine aircraft flights.

U.S. WILL TRY TO SEND SPACESHIP TO VENUS TODAY named after their goddess of love and beauty.

The findings could answer each question as to: How hot is the planet? How fast does it spin? Does it have a magnetic field? Does it radiate heat? Is its surface covered with water or is it a steaming jungle or arid desert? Project officials believe the spacecraft instruments will help substantiate a theory that life does not exist on Venus because of over-heat temperatures which earth-based devices have recorded as high as 615 degrees above zero.

Packed in Mariner 2's insect-like frame are six experiments. Two will operate only during the half-hour rendezvous with Venus. They are a microwave radiometer to study composition of the atmosphere and surface temperature and an infrared radiometer to record temperature throughout the cloud-filled atmosphere.

Other gauges will operate throughout the nearly four-month journey and provide data on space between earth and Venus. They will measure magnetic fields, high energy radiation, solar plasma and cosmic dust.

Mariner 2 represents the United States' last chance until 1964 to launch a probe to Venus to start an extensive program of interplanetary exploration. Venus and earth come into favorable relative positions in their orbits around the sun every 19 months.

The current 30-day opportunity period ends Sept. 12. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration scheduled two launches in the period. Mariner 1 failed on July 22 when a faulty guidance equation sent the Atlas Agena-B off course and it was destroyed by the range safety officer after nearly five minutes of flight.

Estimate 410 Traffic Deaths Over Labor Day

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated Saturday that between 410 and 490 Americans could be killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend.

The council said another 16,000 to 20,000 persons could suffer disabling injuries during the period from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 31, to midnight Monday, Sept. 3.

The estimates are based on the council's records.

Council records show that during a comparable 78-hour, non-holiday period at this time of year 330 persons are killed and 13,900 suffer disabling injuries.

A total of 336 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during the 1961 Labor Day period.

them. The guerrilla groups, made up mostly of tough combat units, discard their jungle combat garb and dress in the tattered black trousers and blouses favored by paramilitary forces and also the Viet Cong.

U.S. advisers with these units described the same way. As the guerrillas entered one forest, a x-ray rushed out and shouted: "What are you doing here? The government has landed troops in the vicinity! You must get to the assembly point quickly!"

The villagers saw an American adviser approaching and began running. He was shot down, and killed. The guerrillas never did find the guerrilla assembly point.

Except for a few towns and villages, the southern tip of Viet Nam has been under Communist control since the end of the Indochina war in 1954.

6 Billion Farm Money Bill Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to the House Saturday a money bill providing nearly $6 billion for the nation's varied farm programs.

Included in the appropriation is $25 million for a special research program to develop new uses and markets for farm products.

This novel approach to cut down the multibillion-dollar costs of mounting farm surpluses drew the praise of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and Speaker L. Holland D-Fla.

Russell said the new effort may "solve the problems of what to do with all these surpluses." Holland predicted the research "will pay off tremendously."

The appropriation measures supplies funds to the Agriculture Department and related agencies for the fiscal year that began July 1. The bill carries $4,774,983,000 in new cash, a reduction of more than $700 million from the amounts allowed earlier by the House.

ARMY ENGINEERS PROPOSE SCORES OF WATER PROJECTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Engineers proposed Saturday that Congress authorize scores of water projects across the nation—the biggest $414 million improvement of the Illinois Waterway.

The projects — for navigation, electric power, flood control and other water developments — were recommended for inclusion in an omnibus bill in testimony before a Senate Public Works subcommittee.

The Illinois project, estimated to cost $114,652,000, would consist of modification of the existing waterway between St. Louis and Lake Michigan by construction of supplemental locks at seven existing lock sites along the Illinois and Des Plaines rivers.

The engineers said commerce along the waterway has increased from about 1.7 million tons in 1935 to nearly 30 million tons in 1960. Tonnage of 35 million annually by the year 2,000 was forecast.

Next largest project proposed was a $191,120,000 flood control project for the Kansas River which runs through Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado.

The committee was told that 1951 floods in the area caused damage estimated at $725 million.

Relatives From Chandlerville At Alcorn Reunion

CHANDLERVILLE—The Alcorn family reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 19th, at Riverside park at Havana. The youngest member present was 2 year old Linda Hall, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herchel Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Sarff, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Alcorn and Mrs. Dorothy Wilson attended from here.

Roodhouse Man Receives Fifty Year BRT Pin

ROODHOUSE—Howard Henley has received a commendation from W. E. B. Chase, secretary and treasurer of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen at Cleveland, Ohio, and a 50 year membership pin. In part the letter reads: "It gives me great pleasure to enclose herewith a 50 year membership pin in recognition of your having attained 50 years of continuous membership in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen."

Open House Today
Friends are invited to attend an open house Sunday, Aug. 26 at the home of Mrs. Anna Wintler in observance of her 85th birthday anniversary. The affair will be held from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. She is a member of the Roodhouse Methodist church, and is an honorary member of the Roodhouse Woman's Club. Her husband, J. J. Wintler, passed away some years ago.

Fish Supper
Mrs. Edward Christman was the guest of honor at a 6 o'clock catfish supper recently served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McPhail, near Winchester. Mrs. Christman's birthday anniversary occurred on Aug. 20. Others present were her husband and a grandson, John. Earlier in the day Mrs. Christman and John had attended a field trip with the Mt. Sterling Rock Club, while Mr. Christman visited with his sons at Bluffs.

Former IC Teacher
Dr. and Mrs. Keach Johnson and family, Des Moines, Iowa, where Dr. Johnson is a professor at Drake University, have returned home after visiting in Roodhouse, his former home, and with Jacksonville friends. While in Roodhouse, the visitors spent some time with his uncle and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle. The Johnsons were dinner guests of the recently retired Joe Patterson Smith of Illinois College, Jacksonville and his wife on Thursday. Dr. Johnson at one time served as an instructor at Illinois College, also.

John Henderson of Portland, Ore., who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Ila Henderson, has left for a visit with a brother, John Henderson, and family, Kansas City, Mo., before leaving for the return trip to Oregon.

Mrs. W. A. Litwiler, Milledgeville, is spending the weekend with her former college roommate, Miss Mabel Hopkins, while her husband is away attending a Methodist Conference for their area. Mrs. Litwiler brought with her colored slides taken by them while on a tour of Europe and South America.

Glasgow BYF Camps Out At Roodhouse Park

GLASGOW—A group of local BYF members, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Netherly and Mrs. Buell Howard, held a camp-out Wednesday night at the Roodhouse Reservoir park, south of Roodhouse, returning home Thursday morning. Parents were invited guests for the supper hour Wednesday evening.

Glasgow Personals
Murrell Smith is a patient in Pike County Hospital in Louisiana, Mo. He is expected to return home the latter part of this week.

Miss Terry Jones of Indianapolis, Ind., returned home Wednesday after a several week's visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones.

Kenneth Fundel and Dessie Radford have returned to St. Louis after a visit here in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fundel and other relatives.

Wayne Steelman, Claude Haney and Roger Fundel were callers Wednesday evening on Warren Techumseh patient at the Oaklawn Sanitarium in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Daniels of Jacksonville were Sunday visitors here with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fundel and family.

Mrs. Lavern Jones and children were Wednesday afternoon callers on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willner in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Lavern Jones and children were recent visitors in the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Hicks in Jacksonville.

Several Glasgow residents were blood donors at the Bloodmobile, conducted in the American Legion building in Winchester Tuesday.

hotel. A Czech physician living there said nobody was hit. He said near panic of guests started from their beds seemed a greater danger than the gunfire.

Picture showed shattered mirrors and glass doors allegedly broken by "Yankee bullets."

The Communists' paper Ray said nine rooms of the wonderful care aged. Other buildings reported hit were the Chapin Theater, where Castro has made some of his flashiest television speeches, and several homes.

Castro paid a visit to the hotel Saturday.

He made no mention of casualties, but said the buildings "received multiple impacts of perforating explosives, imperiling the lives of their inhabitants."

He said the attack was launched at 11:30 p.m. with "numerous 20-caliber cannon firings." Apparently he meant 20-millimeter, relatively light weapons with about a 2-inch bore. The ships were reported to have stood little more than a half mile offshore.

In terms similar to those he used in denouncing the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion 16 months ago, Castro said, "The treacherous surprise attack shows the cowardice, the criminal and piratical spirit of its authors."

"We make the government of the United States responsible for this new and cowardly attack on our country and we denounce before the world the aggressive plans which imperialism is preparing against Cuba. We warn the President of the United States that our people will adopt all necessary measures to confront the danger," he said.

"The Cuban revolution, which could not be defeated by the economic blockade, nor by the repeated military actions, nor by direct attack organized by the United States, will be able to resist and repulse direct attack as well. 'Fatherland or death. We will conquer.'"

The Cuban general staff ordered all demobilized anti-aircraft artillerymen to report at the Havana University stadium at 8 a.m. Sunday.

The shooting incident came amid reports in the United States—ridiculed by the Havana press—of a buildup of Cuba's defense capabilities with the importation via Soviet ships of tons of military equipment and an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 technicians.

Washington authorities asserted U.S. policy remains opposed to the use of American soil by insurgent groups to mount armed attacks against others.

Ag Department Faces Overhaul Over Estes Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probes worked with the FBI to unravel what may be a key clue to whether someone high in the Agriculture Department sought to help or protect Billie Sol Estes in his manipulation of farm-aid programs.

But even as this detective work phase of the long inquiry unfolded Saturday, it became increasingly likely that the huge department is in for a major overhaul as a result of the findings by the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

This probably will come only partly as a result of any revelations of improper collusion with the now indicted Peos, Tex., promoter. Much more penetrating is the evidence that the department's own conclusion that the sprawling department is cumbersome and inefficient.

Of immediate concern to subcommittee sleuths and their FBI helpers is the story behind a draft of an order recommending department approval of the land-transfer deals under which Estes obtained more than 3,000 acres of cotton — planting allotments in 1961. These transactions since have been declared illegal and the Texas has been fined $554,000 for overplanting.

An unsigned, undated copy of the proposed order was turned up by FBI investigators in department files last May and it is the only copy that has been found. Attached to it was an unsigned memo, apparently from a stenographer, which said the order had been seen and approved by Edwin A. Jaenke, who early this year was acting administrator of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Emery E. Jacobs, an ousted official, has testified he prepared the order with the help of Joe Moss of the department's cotton division and Jacobs says he saw it signed by Jaenke.

Jaenke has denied ever seeing the order until it turned up in the inquiry.

So far, the subcommittee has not been able to determine who wrote the memo accompanying the copy of the order.

In addition to asking FBI help in tracking the mysterious memo, the subcommittee chairman, John L. McClellan, D-Ark., asked and received assurance from the Justice Department that it is ready to act on any perjury evidence. McClellan's hearings are in recess until Tuesday, when Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy is to get a prolonged chance to reply to testimony linking his name with an alleged effort to rig an investigation by the department in favor of Estes' dealings.

SOVIET SETS OFF TWO MORE NUCLEAR BLASTS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission reported that the Soviet Union set off two nuclear tests in the atmosphere Saturday.

One blast was in the Novaya Zemlya area in the Arctic and the other in the Semipalatinsk test site in central Siberia.

The Arctic explosion was described as having a force of several megatons, equal to the blast of several millions tons of TNT. The AEC said the one in Siberia was of low yield. This would indicate a blast equivalent of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said both explosions occurred early Saturday.

What a World Series! They packed 'em in, all 345,903 of them in 1956 when Brooklyn played the Yankees. Then in 1959, when the Dodgers played Cincinnati, an all-time series attendance record was set. In a six-game series, 420,784 clicked thru the turnstiles.

Giant and Yankee fans turned out for a six-game hassle in 1951 to the tune of 341,977 and it wasn't until 1955 when Brooklyn took the Yankees four games to three did the crowds surpass the 1951 record.

Back in 1921, in the first meeting between a National League and American League team from New York in the World Series, an all-time high in series attendance figures was set, 269,976, the closest prior to then had been the 1912 meeting of Boston and the Giants, which drew 252,037.

New York World Series had always lined the player's pockets with some of the most lucrative games, except for a sparse year in 1922, when only 185,947 showed.

And cash, why, in 1936 when apples and pencils made the difference between bread and water for some, the Giants and the Yankees six-game stand amassed a receipt total of $460,002.66, for the highest total in the history of the series. For losing, each Giant received $4,655.58, the highest losing share on record.

So add up the seats. Yankee Stadium holds an estimated 70,000; Chavez Ravine can stand 56,000; Candlestick Park, home of the Giants, a meager 42,500, and this resurging team, Cincinnati, dwelling in Crosley Field, can only accommodate 30,322.

Plus, compound what happened last year when the Reds met the Yankees. Series attendance figures dropped to a contageous 223,247, while gate receipts fell off to $4,730,059.95 after the riches of 1957-60 with the Yankees and Dodgers against an assortment of contenders.

From 1957 until 1960, gate receipts looked better to league presidents that Friday to a payroll: 1957, $5,475,978.94; 1958, $5,397,223.03; 1959, $5,628,809.44 and in 1960, $5,480,627.88. A record high for the winning player's pocket books still stands from the Dodgers-White Sox game of 1959, $11,231.18.

Now, since Walter O'Malley has lavished $18 million on his urban renewal project, known better as Chavez Ravine, it will indeed be an exciting pennant chase to see how close the Dodgers will come to losing before they begin to sell those cushioned seats to World Series fans, who, after all, are baseball.

Maybe, the Cubs should move into Soldier's Field.

Where They Play Jay Wins No. 20 In Reds' Win 7-6

CINCINNATI (AP) — Marty Kough and Leo Cardenas hit back-to-back home runs Saturday and the Cincinnati Reds eked out a 7-6 victory over the Houston Astros.

The victory was the 20th in 30 decisions for Joey Jay, who had to have help from Jim Brosnan in the eighth to squelch a Colts rally. It was the sixth straight triumph for the third-place Reds.

Kough hit his fifth homer in the fourth after Houston starter Dick Farrell had given up a double to Frank Robinson and a walk, Cardenas' eighth homer came with the bases empty.

Hal Smith hit his 10th homer with Ken Aspromonte aboard to give Houston back two runs in the fifth.

Farrell, who took the loss for his 17th in 25 decisions, left in the fifth after singles by Ed Kasko and Don Blasingame. Robinson doubled them both home off reliever Bobby Tienhauser.

Houston: 000 020 220-6 12 1 Cincinnati: 000 420 108-7 9 1 Farrell: 9-16 Smith: Jay, Brosnan 4-6 and Edwards, W-Jay 2-10-1, L-Farrell 9-16.

Home runs — Houston, Smith (4), Cincinnati, Kough (5), Cardenas (8).

FLOYD GOES THREE CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson boxed three rounds Saturday in opening his Chicago fight of training for his title bout against Sonny Liston Sept. 25.

Patterson boxed one round each against Richard Pittman, Ben Skelton and Wilson Hannibal and then worked with the heavy bag and the light bag at his suburban Elgin training camp.

Liston, training at nearby Aurora, boxed two rounds with Jim Robinson and planned to increase his tempo to four rounds Sunday.

Tigers Lose 16 'B' Men

BEARDSTOWN — Coach Ron Sullivan lost 16 lettermen through graduation and moving away the past year, including 13 of his line-men, and has only two of his forward wall to bolster Beardstown hopes for the coming season.

With 56 prospective candidates reporting thus far, the squad lists only eight juniors and eight seniors, which gives a good indication of the Tiger inexperience.

With three backfield men returning from the 5-4 team, the big concentration will undoubtedly be toward whipping a line into shape.

Sullivan will have only senior center Tom Newell, 5'11" 170 pounds, and senior end Tom Brown, 5'11" 180 pounds to build the Beardstown line around.

Yearling Head Coach In his third year at Beardstown, the first as head mentor, Sullivan feels that he has several underclassmen who are excellent prospects to become Tiger regulars.

Morrie Lehmkuhl, a sophomore defensive back and Larry Rohn, a junior defensive man, should bolster Tiger hopes, as does junior quarterback John Moore, at 5'9" 125 pounds.

Junior End Looks Good Sullivan listed as other fine prospects who he is expecting a lot out of as junior end John Englehart at 5'11" and 170 pounds and Rod Wellenkamp, a 6'1" 190 pound tackle.

With 19 freshmen and 21 sophomores on the squad, the Tigers will have to go with underclassmen in the line, although several may come out for the squad yet.

Junior quarterback Rick Rawlins is expected to see a lot of action for the Tigers, as is 207 pound junior tackle Tim Rawlins.

The Tigers have several big men which will see action in the line, including 5'11" 175 pound guard Fred Hardwick, and 6'2" 200 pound tackle Richard Moss.

The Tigers will start their season with a Spoon River tilt with Lewistown Sept. 14.

FEWER DUCKS NOW THAN ANYTIME IN AMERICAN HISTORY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., told the Senate Saturday fewer ducks will be flying this fall "than any time since we took the country over from the Indians."

Robertson, a veteran sportsman, said he thought there should be no shooting this year.

The Virginia senator called for action by the House on a Senate-passed bill which would provide federal payments for establishment of more pot holes for duck feeding in northern states.

Robertson's contention that there would be 17 per cent fewer ducks than last year was disputed by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif. Kuchel said that wouldn't apply to Pacific Coast flyways.

"You may have a few more ducks than we have, but not many," Robertson retorted.

Bucs Rebel At Schedule

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirates players, after rebelling for the second time in three years against crowded game scheduling, called off a threatened walkout Saturday. In 1960, the Pirates won their point.

This time, they backed down on advice of baseball's player attorney, Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee.

Cannon, after talking to National League President Warren Giles, advised the Pirates to play the day-night doubleheader Saturday with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Another Pirate-Card doubleheader is set for Sunday.

The controversy arose when the Cardinals management, in agreement with the Pirate management, re-scheduled Friday night's game, out contest for Saturday night.

The Pirates objected to playing a night game before a doubleheader. They said they were willing to play an afternoon double.

Another Pirate-Card doubleheader is set for Sunday.

Sullivan will have only senior center Tom Newell, 5'11" 170 pounds, and senior end Tom Brown, 5'11" 180 pounds to build the Beardstown line around.

Spahn Nets 323 Missing Shutout

CHICAGO (AP) — Backed by a barrage of four home runs, Warren Spahn hurled the Milwaukee Braves to a 10-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday on a field of three hits.

The 41-year-old southpaw missed the 56th shutout of his career in the ninth inning when Dick Butell led off with a triple and scored after two were out on Ken Hubbs' single.

Spahn, who scored his sixth straight victory to boost his record to 14-11 for the season, now has 323 National League triumphs — three short of the record of 326 by a left-hander set by Eddie Plank.

Eleven Back For Hornets

MT. STERLING—Brown County hopes are somewhat better than last year, as the Hornets, under head coach Jim Simpson in his third year, has 11 returning lettermen and a good junior class who turned in some top performance as sophomores last year.

Six regulars are missing from last season's 1-6-1 team, but only three are gone from the Hornet forward wall. In addition, the Hornets have two transfers and a tackle who was injured last season slated for action.

O'Connell Counted On Simpson is looking for 6'2" 190 senior tackle Charlie O'Connell and 6' 140-pound junior quarterback to carry the load for the Hornets this year.

Other returning lettermen include 6'2" 165-pound senior end Ernest Fluckey, 6'2" 160-pound senior defensive end and linebacker Bill Myers, Bob Wilson, a 5'9" 155-pound junior fullback, and John Frost, a muscular 5'9" 140-pound regular halfback.

The remaining lettermen are Ricky Rigg, a 6' 190-pound junior center, Larry Henricks, a 5'9" 155-pound regular halfback, Roger Wilson, a 6' 170-pound junior guard, who did a good job for the Hornets last year, Tom Lewis, a 5'9" 145-pound guard, and Larry Moore, a 5'10" 160-pound sophomore halfback who Simpson cited as one of the best freshmen he ever coached last season.

Quincy Transfer David LaVignon, a 5'9" 155-pound senior halfback played some for Quincy High school last season, and Larry Adkins transferred in from Griggsville, and stands 5'11" and weighs 258-pounds.

Six-foot-three 250-pound Frank Price will see action for the Hornets this year after laying out last year because of an operation.

Brown County had 35 report out for first day practice, but Simpson and assistant coach Dick Vancil expect about 40 in all to report for the team, Simpson hails from Western Illinois and Vancil from Carthage college.

Sopho Spark Team Simpson inserted an all sophomore backfield of Henricks, Wilson, Moore, and Galloway at half-time of the Rushville game last season, trailing 19-0, and the young Hornet team came back to tie the Rockets. Frost and Moore rate as the two fastest Hornets, both running the 100 in about 10.3.

One of Simpson's top ends last season, But Alexander, moved to Florida during the year, where Simpson feels he will make the team. A punter has to be found for the Hornets this year. Missing from the 1961 team are standouts Nelson Workman and Rusty Weaver.

Simpson plans to run mainly a split T with some new innovations.

Schedule: Sept. 12—Macomb; Sept. 21—Beardstown; Sept. 28—Petersburg; Oct. 5—At Havana; Oct. 11—At V.I.T. (Table Grove); Oct. 19—At Rushville; Oct. 26—Unity of Mendon; Nov. 2—At Pittsfield; Nov. 9—Astoria.

TRENTON WINS 2ND RACE RUTH CROWN

BRIDGETON, N.J. (AP) — Trenton, N.J., captured the Babe Ruth Baseball League World Championship Saturday for a second time, defeating Portland, Ore., 7-6.

Frank Partyska scattered seven hits, struck out six and walked three as he went all the way for the victory. Trenton also was champion in 1956.

Portland's Hugh O'Donnell took the loss. He gave up all seven runs before being relieved after five innings. Brandon Gillespie pitched hitless ball for the last two innings.

Coach Frank Howard of Clemson says his team's of the last two seasons were better than his 1962 edition.

HOPEFUL STAKES 1ST TO OUTING CLASS

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Greentree Stable's Outing Class poured it on down the middle of the track in the final sixteenth of a mile Saturday and won the $117,550 Hopeful Stakes for 2-year-olds as the Saratoga meeting came to a close. Alabama Bound was second and Final Ruling finished third.

Outing Class, ridden confidently by Donald Pierce, came from far back in the field of a dozen juveniles, and saved the day for those who had backed his better-liked stablemate, Catullus.

The Greentree entry returned $450, $340 and $320, while Fred Hooper's Alabama Bound, with Braulio Baeza up, returned $10,900 and $7,700. Michael Phelps' Final Ruling, ridden by Larry Adams, paid $28 to show.

Orioles Win 2 From NY

BALTIMORE (AP) — Russ Snyder's single with two out in the ninth inning gave the Baltimore Orioles a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees Saturday night and completed Baltimore's second consecutive doubleheader sweep over the slumping league leaders.

The Orioles won the opener of the day-night twin bill 8-6, scoring six runs in the sixth inning. Despite the four losses here in two days, the Yanks still lead Los Angeles and Minnesota by four games. The Angels lost a golden opportunity to cut deep in the Yankee margin by dropping single games Friday and Saturday.

Overcome Leads The Orioles overcame big New York leads to win both games Saturday and extend the Yankees' losing streak to five games.

Snyder's game-winning blow in the nightcap extended his hitting streak to 19 games. The single off reliever Luis Arroyo came after a pair of walks by another reliever, Jim Boulton, and a wild pitch off Arroyo.

Brooks Robinson, who had seven hits in nine trips during the twin bill, drove in the other three Orioles runs with a homer in the second, a double in the sixth and a single in the eighth—all off New York starter Bud Daley.

Robinson Big Gun Robinson has collected 11 hits in the four games against the Yanks, and 16 in his last 21 times at bat.

The Yanks scored all their second game runs in the first inning off Baltimore starter Hal Brown. New York loaded the bases in the ninth off reliever Wes Stock, but slugger Roger Maris made the final out when he popped his attempted squeeze bunt to first baseman Jim Gentile.

In the day game, the Yanks took a 4-0 lead into the sixth inning, but the Orioles rallied for six runs. After starter Jim Coates retired the first two batters, Baltimore rallied on a walk and seven consecutive hits — three of them by pinch hitters Jack Brandt, Gus Triandos and Dick Williams. Brandt's double drove in two runs, and the single by Williams put the Orioles ahead 5-4.

New York's ace reliever, Marshall Bridges, gave up four straight hits without retiring a batter and was charged with the loss. The winner was Dick Hall, who hurled the first six innings.

First Game New York 120 001 001-6 13 2 Baltimore 000 006 028-8 16 0 Coates, Bridges (6), Arroyo (6), Cleveland (7) and Blanchard (7). W—Hall (6-1). L—Bridges (7-2).

Second New York 300 000 000-3 12 1 Baltimore 010 011 011-4 9 0 Daley, Boulton (9), Arroyo (9), and Howard; Brown, Stock (8), Wilhelm (9) and Triandos, Lau (8). W—Wilhelm (6-9). L—Boulton (5-6).

Home run — Baltimore, Robinson (19).

MUDDER KOOTENAI WINS MATRON RACE

CHICAGO (AP) — Kootenai, owned by Barbara Hunter, of Nicholasville, Ky., galloped through the mud at Arlington Park Saturday to win the $55,750 Arlington Matron by 4 1/2 lengths.

Shirley Jones, who won the race a year ago while Kootenai was running fifth as the favorite, finished second in the 1 1/2 mile race for fillies and mares.

Fluoresce was third and Times Two was fourth before a crowd of 25,283.

Kootenai, the 2-1 favorite ridden by Willie Shoemaker, earned $32,250. She was time in 1:52 4-5. The 4-year-old daughter of Royal Vale paid $600, $380 and $300.

Duke has won the Atlantic Coast Conference golf title the last two years.

Juniors Aid Rushville 11

RUSHVILLE—Coach Bob Winstead is looking for a good year in his second year as head coach of the Rushville Rockets, if they can replace several key men who graduated.

Fortunately, however, Winstead reports that his outstanding junior variety of last year played in the positions where the Rockets were weakened by graduation.

Winstead is looking for 5'9" 155-pound senior halfback Jim Crum, the Rockets' big scorer last year, to have another good year and provide a big scoring punch. Another two year letterman, 5'7" 150 pound halfback, Dennis Wells, could also have an outstanding season, according to the former Routt coach.

Area Great Potential The Rockets' big 6' 205-pound tackle, Larry Greer, a two year letterman, could be the best in the area according to Winstead, as he is agile and tough. Larry Armstrong, 5'6", will be back at center where he has played two seasons of hard-nosed football for the Rockets.

Mike Johnson, a 6'3" 240-pound tackle, is the Schuyler county school's biggest man on the squad, and had a good year as defensive end last season on the team which finished 4-2-2, and was champions of the Midwest conference and finished third in the Spoon River loop.

In all, Rushville lost lettermen from last season's school, including all star Jim Chockley, but have 65 out for the squad, slightly more than last year.

Winstead is assisted at the Rushville post by Rod Schoonover and Charles Dace.

Rushville would like to pick up a game for November 2, either at home or away.

Schedule: Sept. 14—At Mendon; Sept. 21—At Bushnell; Sept. 28—Havana; Oct. 5—Lewistown; Oct. 12—At Pittsfield; Oct. 19—Brown Co. (Homecoming); Oct. 26—At Macomb; Nov. 2—Open; Nov. 9—Beardstown.

Chisox Belt LA With Extra Bases

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored three runs without a hit in the first inning, then unloaded a half dozen extra-base hits and belted the Los Angeles Angels 9-2 Saturday.

The loss was the fourth for the Angels in their last five games and it left them just one percentage point ahead of the third-place Minnesota Twins.

Right-hander Ed Fisher went seven innings for Chicago and scored his seventh victory in 11 decisions. Fisher, who has a 4-6 record against Los Angeles, gave up nine hits, including Billy Bork's 16th home run.

Angel starter Bo Belinsky walked the first three men he faced in the first inning. Belinsky, touched for four of Chicago's nine hits, lasted four innings and took his seventh loss in 15 decisions.

Chicago 300 231 000-9 9 0 Los Angeles 010 000 100-2 10 2 Fisher, Lown (8) and Carreon; Belinsky, Spring (5), Botz (6), Grba (9) and Rodgers, Averil (6). W—Fisher (7-4). L—Belinsky (6-7).

Some 15-20 Trotters Set Kentucky Derby Of Harness Races

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—A host of from 15 to 20 finely-tuned 3-year-old trotters is expected to go to the post Wednesday in the Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of harness racing.

If there are as many as 20 starters, the 57th edition of the classic will gross $127,485 with a winner's share of $28,714. This compares to the record of $144,790 and $35,019 for the winner, both set in 1960.

For the sixth year, the race is over the lightning-fast, red clay mile oval of the plush Du Quoin State Fairgrounds, where pari-mutuel betting is prohibited by state law. Record crowds of more than 25,000 have turned out since the race was shifted there from Good Time Park, Goshen, N.Y.

Record mile heats have spilled into the books each year the race has been at Du Quoin. The series was climaxed last year when Harlan Dean won in successive heats of 1:53.25 and 1:53.9.

Kindall Belts Two Run Tribe Homer To Carry Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Jerry Kindall belted a two-run homer in the eighth inning off Boston's ace reliever, Dick Radatz, to carry the Indians to an 8-6 victory Saturday.

The Red Sox blew a 5-1 lead when starter Don Schwall and Mike Fornieles permitted the Indians to draw even. Bubba Phillips' two-run homer in the sixth inning tied the score at 6-6. Chuck Schilling homered for the losers.

Barry Latman (5-11) went the distance, despite a five-run outburst by Boston in the third inning. He gave up 11 hits, more than Cleveland produced.

Radatz, making his 51st appearance, dropped his fifth game in 11 decisions.

The Indians regained seventh place from the Red Sox and lead them 9-7 with Sunday's doubleheader closing out the season series.

Schedule: Boston 005 001 000-6 11 1 Cleveland 012 102 028-8 10 1 Schwall, Fornieles (4), Radatz (6) and Nixon; Latman and Romano. W—Latman (6-11). L—Radatz (6-5).

Home runs — Boston, Schilling (6), Cleveland, Phillips (8), Kindall (12).

Kankakee Loses In World Series

Cards Split Two, 4-0, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, who didn't want to play, took it out on the St. Louis Cardinals by beating them, 4-0, Saturday night, on Earl Francis's 3-hitter after losing the opener of a day-night doubleheader, 3-2.

The Pirates had objected strongly when the Cardinals rescheduled Friday's rainout for Saturday night. The teams have another twin bill Sunday.

Francis's shutout was his first in the majors. He did not let a runner reach third.

Larry Jackson pitched a strong five-hitter to outduel Bob Friend in the opener. Julian Javier broke up the game in the ninth with a bad-hop single that struck shortstop Dick Groat and inflicted a cut on the bridge of the nose.

Groat came back in the second game with a first-inning homer, his second this season. Dick Stuart drove in the other three runs off loser Curt Simmons with a double and a solo homer, his 16th.

Two Pittsburgh runs were unearned off Simmons, who hasn't won since June 29.

Durocher Okayed To Quit Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Leo Durocher was discharged from the hospital Saturday after an overnight stay following his collapse in the visitors' clubhouse of the Polo Grounds.

The Los Angeles Dodgers coach left the hospital Saturday morning and was driven to his hotel, where he was resting comfortably.

D. Peter Lamotte, the New York Mets team physician, who had treated him at the hospital, said Durocher was "feeling well," but he advised the former manager against going to the Polo Grounds for the game with the Mets.

It was expected that Durocher would return to the coaching lines Sunday.

Durocher, 56, collapsed just before Friday night's game and for a few minutes almost everyone in the locker room thought he had suffered a heart attack.

It developed that Durocher had been given a shot of penicillin about 15 minutes earlier for an infection and had suffered a violent case of penicillin allergy.

A doctor came out of the stand and gave Durocher two shots to neutralize the penicillin and administered oxygen before the coach was taken by ambulance to a hospital.

LA Tops Mets
For 21,065 Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Gilliam hit a home run and three singles and Ron Perranoski pitched one-hit ball through 4 2-3 innings of relief as the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the New York Mets 6-2 Saturday.

A crowd of 21,065 saw the Dodgers inflict the 21st defeat of the season on Roger Craig, the Mets' starter. The tall right-hander allowed 11 hits and five runs before he was taken out for a pinch hitter in the seventh inning. He has won seven.

Tommy Davis, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly also hit homers for the Dodgers, who collected 15 hits, reaching relief pitcher Ken Mackenzie for three runs and four hits in the eighth and ninth innings.

Six-Run Detroit
Rally Tips Solons

DETROIT (AP) — A six-run rally in the eighth inning enabled the Detroit Tigers to overcome the Washington Senators' early five-run lead and turn in a 7-5 victory Saturday.

Steve Hamilton was breezing with a two-hitter before the Tigers drove him out of the box in the eighth.

Chico Fernandez three-run homer cut the Washington lead to Werz, Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe plus a wild pitch by loser Jim Hannan accounted for the final three runs.

Amateur Golf Set

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Anne Quast Decker of Marysville, Wash., sets out Monday in defense of her women's national amateur championship against a classy field that includes all her Curtis Cup teammates, five British stars, and former tennis queen Althea Gibson.

The lush, well-manicured Country Club of Rochester course is the scene of the week-long 62nd women's championship of the U.S. Golf Association.

Two other former champions are in the field of 128-long-hitting JoAnne Gunderson and Barbara McIntire. Miss Gunderson won in 1957 and again in 1960, and Miss McIntire in 1959.

The other U.S. Curtis Cup teammates are Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, last year's runner-up, Ann Casey Johnston, Jean Ashby, Judy Bell, Clifford Ann Creed, and Polly Riley.

From Britain, there will be five Curtis Cuppers — English champion Jean Roberts, and Ruth Porter, Frances Smith, Ann Irvin and Sheila Vaughan.

Canada had a 13-woman contingent among the qualifiers.

Althea Gibson, playing in the championship for the first time, has made remarkable advances as a golfer in the two years since she quit while at the peak of women's tennis.

Her weaknesses are her short game, and lack of tournament experience—and both could cost her dearly on the tricky 6,161-yard, par 36-36—72 course.

Driver Killed At State Fair

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — One race driver was killed and two others badly injured Saturday as a pair of crackups marred the opening of the Minnesota State Fair.

Dead on arrival at a hospital was Don Johns, 28, Bellflower, Calif., whose wife watched in horror from the stands. Involved in a flaming crash with him was Harry Konkel, 30, West Allis, Wis., who was listed in critical condition with burns.

Injured in a second accident two hours after the first one was Russ Long, 31, Yucaipa, Calif. On the second lap of the feature race, something came loose on his car, it rolled over twice and landed on top of Long. No other cars were involved.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The San Francisco Giants retained their half-game hold on second place in the National League Saturday night as Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou slammed homers to help defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1.

The Giants had been pushed into third for several hours as the Cincinnati Reds edged Houston 7-6. San Francisco smashed out 13 hits against three Phil hurlers, with starter Dallas Green taking the loss. The winner was lefty Billy Pierce who gave up only seven hits. It was Pierce's first victory in two weeks.

Cepeda smashed his 29th homer in the fifth with one aboard, while Alou collected his 20th in the eighth.

7TH JR. JAMBOREE
CLOSES SATURDAY

STERLING, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner presented awards to more than 600 track and field and swimming champions Saturday at the seventh annual Junior Sports Jamboree.

The governor was assisted by John A. Troke of Springfield, chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission; Dean Gordon of Monticello, president of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce; and by Frank Duls and Arnold Burch, both of Sterling.

Sterling Mayor Dan Metzger presented the most outstanding track awards to Dave Henson of Sterling and Norman Harris of Chicago. Outstanding swimming awards went to Bruce Pinks of Geneva and Micki Garland of Champaign-Urbana.

The mayors' most outstanding city trophy was awarded to Joe Summerville of Champaign-Urbana, last year's jamboree champion.

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Defending champions Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston and their Davis Cup tormentors, Mexico's Rafael Orsuna and Antonio Palafox, advanced to the finals today at the 82nd National Doubles Tennis Tournament.

McKinley and Ralston rebounded after a slow start and subdued Boris Jovanovic and Nicola Pile of Yugoslavia, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5, in the semi-finals.

Orsuna and Palafox ended the upset trail blazed by unseeded South Africans, Cliff Drysdale and Gordon Forbes, 12-10, 11-9, 11-9.

McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., the nation's top singles player, and Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., beat the Mexicans in the doubles final, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3, in a match that in five sets in American zone Davis Cup competition last month.

The two finals pairs which will meet Sunday are top seeded in the American and domestic lists, respectively.

After the hustling Yugoslavs twice broke McKinley's service in the opening set, the U.S. pair turned on an aggressive, slashing style of play with which their opponents could not effectively cope.

20,000 See No-Hit Win San Jose, Calif. Team Wins 16th

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Ted Campbell, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound 12-year-old, pitched a no-hitter Saturday as San Jose, Calif., won the 16th Little League World Series with a 3-0 victory over Kankakee, Ill.

Two unearned runs and a towering homer by Baughe Takaha accounted for the scoring. At the final out, with both teams breaking out in tears, it was difficult to distinguish the winners from the losers.

A crowd of some 20,000 jammed the scaled-down park and surrounding hillsides for the 6-inning climax of the week-long, eight-team series.

It was the second consecutive victory for a California team. El Cajon won the title last year. Kankakee has been in the series three times without a title.

Campbell, looking like a basketball center at a midge's convention, silenced the Kankakee team with slow breaking pitches. He struck out 11 and walked only 1. Only one ball was hit to the outfield.

Dan Brewster, who had a no-hitter earlier in the series, pitched a strong game for Kankakee, striking out 10 and walking only 1. But the walk and his own fielding error led to the two unearned runs in the fourth inning. After Dave Schneider walked and went to second on a passed ball, Brewster threw Milton Murata's bouncer into the stands, allowing Schneider to score. Murata scored from second on a single through the box by Tony Riley when the Kankakee catcher muffed the throw from center field.

Shortstop Takaha, who pitched and won the second game of the series, homered over the center field fence in the fifth.

Red Cuddy smashed a bases-loaded home run and led Pitman, N.J., to third place with an 8-5 victory over Monterrey, Mexico.

The 82-pound shortstop hit his grand slam homer in the second inning off Raul Lozano. Dave Chew, starting pitcher for Pitman, homered with a man on base in the first inning.

Connie Mack Tilt

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Favored Seattle won its second straight game in the Connie Mack World Series Saturday, handing St. Joseph, Mo., its first defeat 6-1.

Earlier, St. Joseph scored a first-round win over Springfield, 3-2 in a game that was postponed Friday night because of rain.

In a losers' bracket contest Saturday, Danville, Va., evened its record at 1-1 by eliminating Chicago 2-1. Danville received a two-hit pitching job from M. H. Herndon and scored the decisive run in the fifth inning on a walk, single and sacrifice fly.

Seattle, the runner-up in last year's tournament for boys 18 and under, bunched five runs on three walks and three hits in the second inning to swamp St. Joseph.

Bill Wilkie was the winning pitcher for the Pacific Coast team. The double elimination tournament runs through Monday.

The races began Sept. 15 off this point.

Skipper Bus Mosbacher of Weatherly already had left the dock when New York Yacht Club officials came alongside the 12-meter yacht in a launch and announced their decision.

Earlier Saturday Weatherly had decisively beaten the newly built Neteruti of Marblehead, Mass., by five minutes, 39 seconds over a 24-mile course.

The field was narrowed to two yachts Tuesday when Columbia and Winless Easterner were eliminated.

Weatherly, which ran second to Neteruti in the observation trials, whose standings really didn't count, was 6-3 over-all against the eliminated finalist.

The 35-Hour Work Week

President Kennedy has for the time being effectively quashed talk of a quickie tax cut, though he will ask Congress for a general, across-the-board reduction in January.

Boosted by its promoters as necessary to spur the lagging economy, it is interesting that, as in other years, the emergency tax-cut talk mounted in intensity in direct relation to the nearness of congressional elections.

This time, economic considerations outweighed the political, as far as the President was concerned, although both business and labor advocated the immediate cut.

The task of "getting America moving again" remains as the President's prime domestic problem, however. In another aspect of this, his ideas are further in opposition to those of organized labor.

Labor's own solution to the employment problem is a 35-hour work week, with no reduction in pay. AFL-CIO's executive council has just endorsed the program and is preparing to roll up its guns on two fronts: the bargaining table and the halls of Congress.

It would like the latter to write the 35-hour week into law as an amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act. Failing that, it will have to be won piecemeal through contract negotiations.

Key lever to get industry to accept the shorter week would be to require double-time pay for work in excess of 35 hours, instead of the current time-and-a-half for over 40 hours.

This heavy penalty for overtime work, AFL-CIO President George Meany feels, would compel employers to hire extra regular-time workers, thus reducing the army of able but unemployed men.

The President, seconded by his secretaries of labor and commerce, emphatically opposes this as a solution.

Should the shorter work week and the double-time for overtime become an actuality, it is difficult to predict its immediate effects on the economy. But less work for the same money, without a corresponding increase in productivity, implies rising prices.

Rising prices mean less purchasing power for everyone, not to mention a weakened competitive position with foreign producers. Rising production costs also indicate belt-tightening in industry, including cutbacks in labor force. It seems like a vicious circle.

This all may or may not be true. In the long run, however, labor would seem to be defeating its own purpose. That purpose is, of course, to provide security against the growing use of automation, which is the real clue to the situation.

As the union council itself said: "Hanging over the horizon, as ominous as an atomic cloud, is the automation yet to come—the substitution of electronic machines for human effort, which is barely at the threshold of its development."

Yet by increasing production costs, labor would be providing industry with even greater incentive to automate. Some employers may, indeed, hire additional workers rather than pay double wages. But in the meantime, all will be looking for new ways to produce more with less men.

There is no reason, of course, to believe the 40-hour week is the perfect arrangement, anymore than was the 60-hour week of two generations ago.

Our children may one day work 25 or 20 or 15 hours a week. But it will be because of automation, not in spite of it. Thus in the final outcome, labor's drive for a shorter week may really hasten the social upheaval that will be created by automation.

Tomorrow, paradoxically, the 35-hour week may be seen as part of the trend of the times, rather than the reaction against it that it appears to be today.

LANDERS

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: On account of you I will probably be an old maid. You said in your column last year that a girl should not go out with a boy unless he meets her folks.

Well, my mother read that and she said, "Next year when you are old enough to date remember this rule. It's a good one."

Last Saturday afternoon a fellow asked me for my first date. We were at the beach and this real handsome kid came over and invited me to meet him at the movies that night. I said I'd love to but I couldn't go out with a fellow unless my folks met him first. When I invited him to the house, he looked at me as if I were nuts. Then he said, "I'm not about to go through an inspection. Forget it."

Dear Daisies: You lost nothing. If the fellow was the right kind he'd have been happy to pick you up at your home as a gentleman should.

Stick to this rule and you'll never regret it. It's an excellent way to separate the nice guys from the creeps.

Dear Ann: I am 22, married almost 3 years, and I have two small children. My husband says I am lazy because I sleep until 11:00 A. M. or noon. How can I get it through his head that I don't sleep at night because he snores, grinds his teeth, throws his arms and legs over me and bores the blankets.

After tossing and turning all night I have to get out of bed at 7:30 A. M. and fix him breakfast and feed the children. When he leaves at 8:30, I put the children back in bed with toys to amuse them and I sleep another two or three hours. I've tried staying up from 7:30 on but I'm just about dead the rest of the day.

Don't suggest twin beds. My husband's motto is "The marriage that sleeps together stays together." Please help me.

ADELLE

Dear Adelle: Your husband's motto is fine, except you are not sleeping together. He may be sleeping, but you are up all night.

Twin beds with a single headboard could solve the problem. If he refuses to sail for this, go back to bed in the morning after he leaves and get your rest. And ignore his remarks.

Flower clusters of the pussy willow are called catkins.

Dear Displeased: A person who earns a little baby-sitting money should not be penalized by having her allowance cut off. (I assume you're doing something for your allowance besides breathing.)

Tell your Mom you'd like to start a savings account with your sitting money and keep it separate from your allowance.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?" enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This is-fame department. A Washington taxi driver reports that he picked up a load of tourists who asked to see Vice President Lyndon Johnson's home.

"I told them," he says, "I didn't even know he lived here."

Vice President Johnson—who admits to being an ex-shoeshine boy in his home town of Johnson City, Tex.—tells of a story that goes back to the depression years when he was first elected to Congress. While visiting his District, Johnson, then a representative, was taken on a tour of a WPA project by a town official and was introduced to some ditch diggers. As they came upon a grizzled old World War I veteran, swinging a pick, the town father said, "Do you know Congressman Johnson? Come up and meet him."

Replied the veteran: "Know him? Why, he used to shine my shoes."

Rep. Perkins Bass, R-N.H., tells about Gen. and Mrs. Eisenhower's recent visit to his Washington home for a meeting of the congressional wives organization. After his wife Kathie served pancakes with New Hampshire syrup, she presented the Eisenhowers several cans of it. As they were ready to leave, he turned down an offer for help by saying with a grin, "Thank you, but no one lays hands on my loot."

A west coast showgirl has capitalized on Senator McClellan's famous B-Girl hearings. She changed her stage name to "Senatta McClellan."

President Kennedy's special assistant for political affairs, Lawrence F. O'Brien, is from Massachusetts, too, and was brought up in the Irish school of politics made famous by the late Jim Curley, as an "organization man."

O'Brien tells a story to explain the phrase. It's about a young immigrant named Jack McCarthy. Boss Curley picked him to run for the state legislature. He was elected.

One term. Then he came to Curley to ask for one more promotion and last favor.

"I'd like to become an American citizen."

The fact that Harvard Prof. Seymour Harris now heads a panel of 37 academic economists who advise Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has provided Washington insiders something of a laugh.

Before Republican Dillon's name was mentioned for the Democratic cabinet post, Harris, Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith (now ambassador to India) and a couple of other Kennedy intimates had a brainstorming session trying to think of a liberal businessman for the job. They didn't come up with a single name. But now Harris works for Dillon—and likes him.

During hearings on the Committee on Economic Development farm report, Agriculture Committee Chairman Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina had a sharp exchange with T. O. Yntema, who wears a double hat as chairman of the CED research and policy committee and vice president of Ford Motor Company.

Yntema: "Some. Not a whole lot more."

Cooley: "The Ford Motor Company controls production?"

Yntema: "That's right."

Cooley: "Then why is it wrong for farmers to control their production?"

Yntema: "Some of them do. They go to work for Ford."

Belleu, in explaining to a VFW convention why he wasn't going to recite a lot of statistics, told the group what Mrs. Bob Taft used to say:

"I always find statistics hard to swallow and impossible to digest. The only one I can remember is that if all the people who go to sleep in church were laid end to end—they'd be a lot more comfortable."

In response to the President's recent economic message Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., received this letter, which reads like some out of "Hamlet" from a constituent:

"To cut or not to cut—that is the issue."

Simply making up one's mind is such a problem.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—But by oil over the years—by talking, re- treating, pushing on Berlin—Russia made the West back up and even laid the ground for a showdown crisis.

Its latest move is one more step on that long road. This was in replacing this week the Soviet commandant in Berlin with an East German military chief.

It isn't pleasant for the West to accept the thought it has been stiff-armed in its tracks but here are two prime examples of it:

1. Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany tried to keep alive in his people the idea they could be reunited with their fellow Germans in Communist-run East Germany. The Eisenhower administration called for reunification, too.

Neither Adenauer nor this country was thinking in terms of a Germany united under communism. And, just because they weren't, what they said about reunification was empty talk, and nothing more, and for this reason:

Khrushchev wasn't thinking in terms of a Germany united under capitalism and allied with the West. The reality was that unification couldn't happen in the foreseeable future.

Khrushchev battered the West into acceptance of this reality.

He told Adenauer to reconcile himself to the existence of two Germanies as an "indispensable fact." He said Russia would not permit unification that eliminated "socialism" (meaning communism) in East Germany.

2. Khrushchev, meanwhile, forced the West to think of a problem more real and immediate—Berlin.

Under post-war agreements Berlin—110 miles inside Communist East Germany—was divided into four zones, one each to be occupied by the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

The Soviets, who did and do control East Germany, guaranteed the West the right of access to the city—people and supplies—through and over East Germany.

By this arrangement the West would deal with the Russians on travel to and from Berlin, not with the East Germans. The West refused to recognize the East German Communists as the legitimate government.

It would, for the West Germans, have been a highly unpopular thing for the West to do.

Stalin tried to break the agreement he made by blockading Berlin in 1948. In one move he could have gobbled up the city, if the West let him. It didn't. It broke the blockade. For some years there was comparative quiet.

Then Khrushchev in a less sudden and dangerous way tried to repeat what Stalin did.

He said he wanted the Allies out of Berlin. He said he wanted it to be a "free" city in the heart of East Germany although no one could have any illusions it would remain free long.

Then he threatened to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. If he did, it would mean the West would have to deal with the East German Reds whom they still refused to recognize.

If the East Germans laid down new conditions for access to Berlin, or tried to shut the West out altogether, and if the West tried to batter its way through, it would mean war with East Germany and Russia, too.

Over the years Khrushchev did some incredible threatening and backsliding. For instance, he set a six-months' deadline for signing a peace treaty. He let that pass and said it didn't matter.

Last year he intensified his demands. The West, as always, said it would not abandon the people of West Berlin, that it had agreements with Russia to stay there.

Last Aug. 13 Khrushchev tested the West. He threw up a wall between East and West Berlin. If the West had battered down the wall one of two things would have happened: Khrushchev would have backed up or there would have been war.

The West did nothing. In this test of wills, Khrushchev won. Now he's forcing the West into another test by pulling the Soviet commandant out of East Berlin. His next move may be a peace treaty with East Germany.

In Hollywood

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"You can't win a law suit in a courtroom by trickery—except in novels," declared Jake Ehrlich fervently. "And I don't think anyone, ever, jumped up in the rear of the courtroom and confessed to murder."

Ehrlich, a slight, jaunty man, is a qualified commentator on the courtroom scene. He is a famous San Francisco trial lawyer who has appeared for the defense in 100 capital cases (and never lost one in the state prison's "green room.")

A new series, called "Sam Benedict" (that's the Ehrlich-type lawyer), has been shrewdly inserted at the head of NBC's Saturday night lineup of shows for autumn. That means that old friends of "Perry Mason" (knocked over to Thursday nights to make room for Jackie Gleason's variety hour) may still get their full weekend ration of lawyer-adventures.

The series has been a long time arriving. Jack Newman, the producer, became interested in using Ehrlich as a prototype many seasons back when he was in San Francisco making a police series, "The Line-Up."

"Of course I knew about Ehrlich, but then I started hearing police officers talk about him," Newman said. "Then I read a couple of his books on law and a book about him."

Ehrlich said the same idea had occurred to others but that he wanted any series with which he was connected to consist of hour shows.

Originally the show was called "333 Montgomery," which is Ehrlich's office address. There were numerous reasons for not using Ehrlich's name:

"In the first place, the American Bar Association is fuzzy about things like that," the lawyer said. "It's unethical to bandy around the name of a lawyer. Secondly, there were problems of legal actions by people who thought we were using their stories."

Finally, there is that eternal necessity of taking license in telling a story in dramatic form.

SOME FOOD FACTS:

Americans may think they are eating less fat but statistics show this impression is wrong. Consumption of fat is at an all time high and equals about 129 pounds per person. Much of the fat comes in foods that are not considered "fatty" such as nuts, meats, poultry, fish and whole milk. Bread, baked goods such as cakes and cookies, candy, ice cream, potato chips and french fries. These sources account for two-thirds of the average person's consumption.

Although consumers generally are using non fat they are not getting it in the same way as they formerly did. There is a decrease in lard and butter but an increase in vegetable shortening and other edible fats and oils. They are eating less of it in dairy and grain products and more in meat, poultry and fish.

Vermilion County rural people captured the 23rd annual Illinois Farm Sports Festival championship at Champaign for the second year in a row Thursday.

Vermilion County entered the two-day finals, which were held on the University of Illinois campus Wednesday and Thursday, trailing Adams County but forged into the lead by the end of the first day with heavy scoring in nearly all events.

About 2,000 Illinois rural people participated in the sports festival wrap-up at Champaign. The year-long sports festival program began early in the year with bowling and basketball. Another sports festival event—trap shoot—was held in Springfield in July.

Ninety-one counties participated in sports festival this year, breaking last year's record number of ninety. One new event in the festival program—golf—drew 134 entries from 41 counties.

Thompson Farm Bureau Talent Find winners, ranging from a ten-member chorus to a cowgirl singing act, were selected Wednesday to go on to the Talent Find finals at the IAA annual meeting in Chicago in November. Among those selected were Charles Seybold and Fred Kern of Pittsfield, who played a piano duet.

Archie Barnett and Joe Garner of Greenfield won the men's doubles horseshoe trophy Thursday. Nancy Neuschwander of Carrollton placed second in the women's driving contest.

Rolling high in the 4-H physical fitness contest were Gary Bates and Lawrence Wells of Macoupin county. Kent Baker of Pike and Bob Shepherd of Sangamon.

SET WHEAT VOTE PLACES IN SCOTT

WINCHESTER — Polling places for the Aug. 30 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1963 crop of wheat were announced by Nimrod Pink, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. Ballots may be cast from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 30, at the following places:

Exeter, Merritt, Naples, Oxville, North and South Bluffs at the City Hall in Bluffs.

East Winchester, Point Pleasant, North and South Winchester and Bloomfield at the Court House in Winchester.

Alsey and Glasgow will vote at Glasgow and Manchester and Sandy will vote at Manchester, Ill.

SEPT. 7-8 VISITORS to the Illinois Farm and Home Science show will see many things. Some of them will be very old and some brand new. There'll be shuttle bus service from the parking lots on the Urbana campus and visitors may take their choice of what they want to see. There is no charge for any event.

Among the new things is this verti-cut lawn mower, shown at left. It may be used to "cultivate" an established lawn, or it may be used to remove old turf to make way for new seedlings. It will be demonstrated several times both show days.

At right is a mechanical tomato picker that can harvest as much as 20 tons of tomatoes per hour under good working conditions. The U.I. horticulturists have planted several experimental tomato varieties which lend themselves to mechanical picking and interested show visitors may inspect the new varieties and see the picker in action Sept. 7-8.

State Meat Inspection Program Benefits All

URBANA—Illinois is one of the few midwestern states with a compulsory state meat and poultry inspection program, according to Dr. G. T. Woods, University of Illinois public health veterinarian.

A state meat inspection program is necessary, since the federal program applies only to interstate commerce. Meat and poultry that are shipped out of state must be inspected by the federal government. Meat and poultry that are sold within the state are inspected by the state.

Constant inspection is necessary because meat can be sound but may become contaminated during processing. Dr. Woods said.

Federal meat inspectors examine about 190 million animals and about 12 cents a year, has been extremely successful in decreasing the number of food poisoning cases. For example, more men died from food poisoning during the U.S. INSPID & P.S.D. label, the U.S. is assured of exporting more than 600 million pounds of meat and meat products annually, Dr. Woods said.

Some countries exclude U.S. pork, since hog cholera has not been eradicated in this country.

The role of the veterinarian in the meat inspection program will be told in displays featured in the veterinary medical section at the Farm and Home Science Show. This two-day show begins Sept. 7 at the University of Illinois.

Meat may also be labeled "prime, choice or good." This purple grading label indicates quality, not wholesomeness, warned Dr. Woods. In addition to inspecting meat and meat products, inspectors check to see whether ready-to-serve foods are thoroughly cooked, labels are truthful, meat is weighed accurately, containers and wrappings are safe from harmful chemicals and processing plants have not been eradicated in this country.

Dr. Woods said the federal program, which costs each citizen about 12 cents a year, has been extremely successful in decreasing the number of food poisoning cases. For example, more men died from food poisoning during the U.S. INSPID & P.S.D. label, the U.S. is assured of exporting more than 600 million pounds of meat and meat products annually, Dr. Woods said.

400 Head Of Hogs A Month

This is a bird's-eye view of the John and Russell Jeckel farm near Delavan, which has been selected for the central Illinois farm management tour Sept. 5.

On 215 acres, this father and son have developed an intensive hog operation farrowing 40 litters a month. They use lagoons for manure disposal, on-the-farm mixing, a hog house equipped with slatted floors and automatic limited feeding for a complete farrow-to-finish program.

They have averaged 7.8 pigs saved per litter and produce three times as much gross income as the average hog farm with only twice the cost.

University of Illinois farm management specialist D. F. Wilken comments, "This is one of the most outstanding hog operations in Illinois. Hog producers of the future cannot afford to miss this tour."

Wilken also notes that the Jeckels produce about nine times as many hogs as the average hog farm and still maintain above-average efficiency.

An Efficient Plant

They have saved labor and money with their manure disposal, feed-handling and building design. Through use of the most modern scientific methods, they have overcome many of the bottlenecks that limit farmers from expanding their hog operations.

Good farm records have helped them analyze their business and make profitable changes.

Began 12 Years Ago

The development of this outstanding father and son operation began after the son, Russell Jeckel, graduated from the U. of I. College of Agriculture in 1950. Beginning on the home farm in 1951, they bought 17 sows. They began their continuous monthly farrowing program in 1955.

Tours begin from 9 to 11 a.m. on the farm 1/4 mile northeast of Delavan on Route 122. About 3 1/2 hours will be required to complete the planned tour.

The Tazewell County Swine Herd Improvement Association will serve a pork barbecue lunch at noon. Make reservations with your county farm adviser or with D. F. Wilken, 450 Mumford Hall, Urbana.

The tour is sponsored by the Illinois Farm Bureau Farm Management Service and the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Illinois.

not occurred because all meat is inspected, Dr. Woods said.

A second benefit from our meat inspection program is the increase in meat exports. Since most foreign countries readily accept the U.S. INSPID & P.S.D. label, the U.S. is assured of exporting more than 600 million pounds of meat and meat products annually, Dr. Woods said.

CIPS Personnel Changes Reported In Pike, Cass

PIITTSFIELD — Robert B. Rankin, 155 Washington Court, Pittsfield, superintendent of the Central Illinois Service Co. since 1956, has been named superintendent of the utility, according to an announcement this week by D. R. Webb, manager of the Western Division operations for C. I. P. S.

Webb announced that Robert Dwinells of Beardstown, a residential sales representative for C. I. P. S., will succeed Rankin as superintendent at Pittsfield. Both men will assume their new duties on Sept. 1st.

Rankin, a native of Virden, joined C. I. P. S. in 1936 as a meter reader in Virden. He also served as a lineman at Virden and Waverly prior to becoming superintendent at Pittsfield. A veteran of World War II, Rankin served with the U.S. Army three years in the Philippines, Alaska and the Aleutian Islands. He is a past president of the Pittsfield Chamber of Commerce, and is first vice president of the Pittsfield Lions Club and has worked with the Boy Scouts. He also is a member of the American Legion and the Masonic Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin are the parents of three sons, William, 17; Robert, 14, and Richard, 12.

Dwinells, a native of Virden, joined the C. I. P. S. in 1948 as a storekeeper at Virden. He also served as a lineman at Virden and Waverly prior to being named a residential sales representative in May, 1961. Dwinells served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and spent 19 months in the Okinawa campaign. He is a member of the American Legion, Waverly Lions Club, Royal Arch Masons and the Knights of Pythias. He and his wife have three sons, Robert, 6; Phillip, 4, and Duane, 2. Pittsfield C. I. P. S. sub-group operations include Pittsfield and 13 other communities. They are Detroit, Florence, Griggsville, Mayville, Milton, Nebo, New Salem, Perry, Pleasant Hill, Valley City, Abry, Baylis and New Canton.

Ben Noble of 916 Lafayette St., Beardstown, superintendent of Beardstown group operations for C. I. P. S., Co. since 1947, will retire Aug. 31, under the company's retirement annuity plan after more than 25 years of service with C. I. P. S. Robert Rankin, superintendent of Pittsfield sub-group operations for C. I. P. S., will succeed Noble, a native of Lanark, Ill., joined the C. I. P. S. in 1936 as a utility man at Arthur. Noble served in both World Wars I and II. He is a member of the American Legion, Elks Lodge and the Beardstown Rotary Club. He has two daughters.

The New York Yankees, detaching World Champions, will make their final appearance at Comiskey Park in Chicago this season in a big weekend series September 21-23. The set opens with a night game Sept. 21st, with afternoon contests on Saturday and Sunday.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

SHOULD YOU STORE 1962 CORN CROP?

Farmers are now planning their storage and sales programs for the harvest period. Should they make an extra effort to put all of their corn away, or should they store the amount that their bins will conveniently hold and sell the rest?

Many producers, particularly those who are not in compliance with the feed-grain program, will produce more corn than they have room for. The yield indicated on August 1 for Illinois was 79 bushels, and production was indicated at 658 million bushels, up from 638 million in 1961.

Bids for new-crop delivery were about 93 cents in early August. This 27-cent discount from the loan is a good reason to hold corn. But the old-crop price was 98 cents, which casts doubt on a significant price increase during the season ahead. In early August 1961 the price was $1.03.

A record 658 million bushels of corn from the 1961 crop moved into the loan program. It appears that the carry-over will be reduced about 350 million bushels. A combination of these two things usually results in a price rise to about the loan. But this year the price has fallen more than 20 cents short.

Much CCC Corn Sold

The strength factors have been more than offset by huge sales by CCC. During the period from October 1, 1961, through August 3, 1962, CCC sold 867 million bushels. Of this amount 96 million were sold under special export programs, 603 million to recover cost of the feed-grain program, and 168 million that were "out of condition." Had the 168 million "out-of-condition" corn been applied against the feed-grain certificates, as was permissible, the price would have closely approached the loan.

The situation during the year ahead will be similar. The carry-over will probably be reduced by a substantial amount. In view of the low price this summer, the use of the loan will probably be larger only 54 percent of the eligible corn was placed under loan and purchase agreement.

CCC will again sell a large amount. They will start the year with about 350 million bushels less than which to hammer prices. If loan entries are 75 percent of the eligible corn, CCC will not have enough. But unless loan entries are this high, they will be able to do what they want to with the price. Will they again sell down? This is not an appropriate question for an economist to try to answer.

New Soybean Varieties Supplant Older Types In Morgan, Illinois

Soybean breeders have been doing a good job in the past ten years, and particularly in the last five years. And Illinois farmers are fast to get acquainted with the new varieties.

These statements are supported by the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service which last week reported four new varieties, unknown ten years ago, are the most popular in the state today.

Many of the older varieties have nearly disappeared, but the old standby "Hawkeye" continues to find favor with many farmers.

The most popular varieties in Illinois this year, according to the report, are Harroway, Clark, Shelby and Lindarin—in that order. In the west southwest reporting section, which is bordered on the north by Morgan county, the most popular varieties are Clark, Harroway, Shelby and Hawkeye. The early maturing Lindarin is not much used here, except in instances where they fit into the rotation better than the higher-yielding, later-maturing varieties.

All of these, with the exception of Hawkeye, have been developed in very recent years and Hawkeye is by no means an old-timer, having proved its worth in this area about 14 years ago. For all practical purposes Shelby is five years old, Clark and Harroway are seven and Lindarin is four.

They have supplanted such former favorites as Adams, Illini, Lincoln and Wabash. About gone from the stage are Bavender, Blackhawk, Chief, Chippewa, Kingwa, Perry and Richland, along with former hopefuls such as Roe, Ogden, Lee, Hood, Ford, Henry, Scott, Korean, Merit, Virginia, Hill and Black Hay beans.

This year the Morgan county soybean variety test plots are located on the Harold Cockin farm, east of Alexander and on the north side of Route 36-54. Farm Adviser George Trull has announced that a field day will be held there Saturday, Sept. 15, beginning at 1:30 p.m. W. O. Scott, U. I. crops specialist, will be on hand to lead the discussion and answer questions.

Think of a Russian party and immediately endless drinking of vodka comes to mind. However, earlier in the century attempts were made to stamp out this national drink. During World War I the sale of vodka was prohibited. After the revolution of November, 1917, a general prohibition was called. But the Russian reaction to prohibition was the same as in this country and vodka-drinking continues.

LET'S GO BIRDING—

Five Prizes

By Emma Mae Leonard

This is the last article on shorebirds for awhile. We fear that many of you have been bored, and yet we hope that you have survived. This time we shall try to deal with five prizes, that is, five uncommon shorebirds.

You may protest, "Why waste space on something that never happens here?" We shall answer that question at the conclusion of the article. Don't cheat!

Let's select five prizes from the shorebirds, not all sandpipers either. There in the deeper mud at the edge of the mudflat is feeding a snipe-like bird.

It has a very long bill which it jabs perpendicularly into the mud at full length in a sewing-machine motion. This bird is clearly a Dowitcher, probably a Long-billed.

Nearby tower four grayish birds with long greenish legs. They feed somewhat like the Dowitcher but are taller. These are the Stilt Sandpipers—an appropriate name, we must grant.

Off to itself is feeding a small brownish buff sandpiper. Its back is scaly rather than striped in pattern, and its legs are blackish. We think that it is a Baird's Sandpiper; in fact, it is a Baird's.

Strange Bill
In the midst of some Semipalmated Sandpipers we discover one that looks like its companions except for its bill. There's something about this bill which attracts our attention: it is longer; it is thicker at the base; it also seems to droop slightly at the tip. This must be the Western Sandpiper; at least we identify it as one.

In files a dark-winged sandpiper with noticeably white sides to its tail. It stands off by itself, nodding a bit as it gazes through its white-ringed eyes. There before us is the Solitary Sandpiper.

Here is the answer to your question posed in the first paragraph: all of these were seen from a car by observers parked on July 18, and 19 on the shore of our very own Lake Jacksonville overlooking the mudflat.

RECORD EATERS
Many clams have been made for various kinds of foods. Here are some of the claims.

The record for eating raw eggs is claimed by Glen Johns, who on March 14, 1955, ate 24 in 14 minutes in Ontario, Canada.

The record for eating the most hamburgers is claimed by Philip Vazdik, in Chicago, Illinois, on April 25, 1955, he ate 77 at one sitting.

Georges Grognet, of Belgium, claims the record for eating boiled eggs. He ate 44 boiled eggs in 30 minutes on May 31, 1956.

Joe Garcia claims the record for eating the most oysters, 400 in 60 minutes. He performed this feat on February 5, 1955, in Melbourne, Australia.

MY LOST DOG

One morning my sister and I got up. The dog gave us a message. He wanted to go outdoors. My sister let him out.

She called and called. He went on down the road.

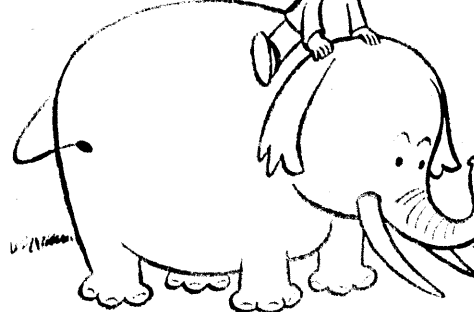

I went out. I could not find him. We got in the car and went all over the town to find him, but we did not find him.

Rockets And Space—

Rendezvous In Orbit

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

The Russians have recently indicated they must know what the United States is doing in space. They are going to meet with the Mercury capsule Gemini will be ready for use sooner than if a lot of new equipment were used.

The main difference in the look of the outside of the Gemini and the Mercury capsule is that it has larger windows and no escape tower. If anything goes wrong during the launch ejection seats will be used to hurl the astronauts to safety. This can be done with this capsule because the tugs of the Titan II, which will launch it, do not make such a big explosion as those of the Atlas.

Inside the Gemini the main difference is that many of the parts are easily removable, replaceable. These shelves will be mounted outside the capsule's pressurized cabin so they can be replaced easily just before launch.

These tests are very important for Gemini in orbit. Before astronauts can actually make a rendezvous in orbit, they must know what the United States is doing in space.

The United States has already completed two beginning studies of rendezvous in orbit on Scott Carpenter's flight. A Carpenter was into orbit he tracked this Atlas booster as it dropped away from him. This gave him a chance to tell scientists how a rocket launch from a capsule in space and how easily it can be tracked.

Later, on his second orbit, Carpenter released a mackerel-colored balloon. With this he could tell what colors showed up best in space.

These tests are very important for Gemini in orbit. Before astronauts can actually make a rendezvous in orbit, they must know what the United States is doing in space.

Two-Man Capsule
Recent space rendezvous practice will start in 1968 when the Gemini capsule will be launched into orbit by the Atlas booster as it dropped away from him. This gave him a chance to tell scientists how a rocket launch from a capsule in space and how easily it can be tracked.

Later, on his second orbit, Carpenter released a mackerel-colored balloon. With this he could tell what colors showed up best in space.

Wiring The Amplifier

By Joseph A. Smith

How are we doing this? Not too difficult now is it? Well, let's continue and soon we will have the means for having truly live sounding audio at budget costs.

Step (8) Cut off about a 2" length of bare wire, slip one end into grounding terminal of fono input jack (solder), and opposite end into right-hand soldering lug of 50,000 ohm volume control (solder two wires now here).

Step (9) Cut off about a 2" piece of hook-up wire and strip 1" insulation off each end. Slip one bared end into SO-3 socket soldering pin No. 1 (solder), and wrap opposite bared end around bare wire immediately under soldering lug No. 3 (right-hand pin) of 50,000 ohm volume control (solder here).

Step (10) Cut off about a 3" length of bare wire. Wrap one end around the bare wire immediately under grounding pin of input fono jack (solder here). Run this 2nd bare wire then down to rearward soldering terminal No. 1 of ST-1 (no solder). Then cut off yet another piece of bare wire (this time about 4" long); slip one end into rearward soldering lug No. 1 of ST-1 (no solder) and opposite end into right-hand terminal No. 2 of ST-3 (now solder here two wire leads).

Step (11) Trim the leads of a 470,000 ohm-1-watt resistor to 2" each. Slip one lead into SO-2 socket soldering pin No. 5 (solder), and opposite resistor lead into SO-1 socket soldering pin No. 5 (no solder). Next, trim lead lengths of a 470,000 ohm-1-watt resistor (10% tolerance) capacitor to about 1" each. Slip positive capacitor lead into SO-1 socket soldering pin No. 5 (no solder), and opposite capacitor lead (negative outer shield lead) into SO-2 socket soldering pin No. 7 (solder here).

Step (12) Trim the leads of a 220,000 ohm-1-watt resistor to 2" and 1" respectively. Slip 1" lead into SO-1 socket soldering pin No. 5 (solder 3 wires therein), slip opposite wire lead through right-hand (No. 2) soldering terminal of ST-2 and over through left-hand (No. 1) soldering terminal likewise of ST-2 (no solder).

FIRST HAIRCUT
Once upon a time there was a boy. His name was Bill. Bill didn't like to have a haircut. It was his first haircut.

His father took Bill to get a haircut. Bill did not know where he was going. Then the car stopped.

The father got out and Bill got out, too. Bill went into the shop. Bill saw the chair and the man. He knew where he was.

His father put Bill in the chair. Bill didn't want to sit in the chair now. His father put Bill back into the chair.

The man spun the boy and the chair. When the chair stopped spinning, Bill was dizzy. When he was dizzy his hair was cut.

Jacksonville Museum 1861-1865

By W. Brook Field

Part 2

Charlie Eames and Bert Glover were two boys who lived in Jacksonville a hundred years ago, and were the proprietors of The Jacksonville Museum, which was located in the back at Charlie's home at Prairie and West State.

We know about the museum from a notebook that lists all the things in the museum in 1861-1865.

In the museum were rocks, minerals, shells, fossils, bird eggs, butterflies, other insects, stamps, coins, and curiosities. Charlie and Bert knew quite a lot about rocks and minerals, and they were able to name them accurately, and told where each specimen came from.

Some of the rocks were found near home by Charlie and Bert themselves, but most of their specimens were given to them by people who had visited other places. From Bert's father came some lava from Mount Vesuvius in Italy, and a piece of rock from the pyramid of Cheops in Egypt.

There were many stones from Lake Superior and Lake Michigan, and Charlie's father gave them some stones from the Atlantic Ocean.

Bird Eggs
In the natural history department were eggs taken by Charlie and Bert from the nests of the common birds such as the robin, the kingbird, the chimney swift and so on. If you had a museum today you couldn't have such specimens, because it is against the law to rob the nests of birds.

Charlie and Bert also collected and mounted insects but they didn't know the names of very many of them, and so they just listed "37 insects of all kinds." They got some specimens from other people, including Professor Crampton of Illinois College who gave them a case with a hundred insects in it.

From Foreign Lands
In their foreign department the boys had things that were brought to them by other people. For example they were given a pen from China, a brass coffee cup holder from Turkey, and a Portuguese wood statuette. This department was a kind of catch-all department, because, as the boys said, "Nothing is mentioned in this department which can be placed in other departments."

As we said last week, the latest collections in the museum were those of stamps and coins. Probably if we compared their lists with modern stamp and coin catalogs, we would find that if we had their stamps and coins today they would be very valuable.

Two small departments were the departments of autographs and nuts. In the first they had the signatures of eight men, mostly congressmen, and in the second, there were 18 specimens, from black walnuts and hickory nuts to pistachios and Syrian chestnuts.

We can see why The Jacksonville Museum grew. Charlie Eames and Bert Glover were themselves always on the lookout for interesting things, and they had many friends who helped them.

Look next week for an article on how you can have YOUR OWN MUSEUM.

Hodge - Westnedge Vows Exchanged At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — Miss Phyllis Westnedge of White Hall and William Lee Hodge of Roodhouse were united in marriage last Sunday afternoon at the Roodhouse Methodist church. The two o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Edward Ethington using the double ring service.

Bouquets of white glads and ferns decorated the church altar. Sheri Godfrey and Mrs. Robert McCaherty provided the nuptial prelude.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Westnedge of White Hall and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hodge, Roodhouse.

Miss Brenda Dawdy, White Hall, attended the bride and Dennis Moulton, Roodhouse, was best man. Guests were seated by Larry Edwards and Danny Westnedge.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of snow white silk organza over bouquet taffeta with tulle and Alencon lace. A pearl crown held her double veil and marking.

Sally Aldrich, Gary Curtis Nuptials At Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD — St. Paul's Lutheran church was the setting August eighteenth of a pretty late summer wedding in which Miss Sally Marie Aldrich became the bride of Gary Lee Curtis.

Both are residents of Pittsfield. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Aldrich and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Curtis.

The ten o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend James L. Agee at an altar banked with white glads against greenery and illuminated by white tapers in candelabra.

Mrs. Irene Stone presided at the organ and also accompanied the soloist, C. A. Barber.

Miss Aldrich chose her sister, Mrs. C. Patten Dickinson, a recent bride, as her matron of honor. Don Fidler attended the groom. Guests were seated by Lee Fisher and Harold Buddemeier.

Little Kandy Curtis, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over slipper satin, falling entrain. Her elbow length veil of imported silk illusion was held by a Swedish style crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and valley lilies centering a purple orchid.

Mrs. Dickinson wore aqua peau de sole with matching shoes and hat with a blusher veil. She carried a cascade of white carnations.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Following their return from a wedding trip the couple will return here. The groom plans to re-enter college this fall.

A rehearsal dinner was served at the Steak House in Pittsfield to members of the wedding party the night preceding the wedding. Both young people graduated from Pittsfield High School. The bride attended Mississippi State College for Women at Columbia, Miss., and was a member of the Man'selle Social Club. Mr. Curtis has been attending Eastern Illinois University where he is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Hand 17 of the World Championship series belongs to East and West. The bidding when Italy held the East-West cards is shown in the box. America tried to jam the bidding and might well have stamped, but they settled for a double and two trick set of South's six-spade bid. Of course, if North and South had not gone to six, Italy would have played and made six diamonds. When America held the East-West cards, diamonds were never bid. For some reason best known to himself, East chose to open no-trump. South jumped to three spades and West made the fine bid of four spades. Whatever reason East had for his no-trump opening must have caused him to continue with a bid of four no-trump. If he had made his logical bid of five diamonds, West would have raised him to six and the chances are that he would have been allowed to play that contract.

He was also allowed to play South to make an opening lead, four no-trumps and it was up to it wasn't hard for him to decide not to lead a spade. He didn't have a diamond and he was lucky enough to put his four of hearts on the table. North took his ace and led back a spade, whereupon South ran off eight spades to set the hand six tricks.

Jiggle Totals In Patterson Cemetery Benefit

PATTERSON—Harold Wilkinson, treasurer of the Pine Tree cemetery has announced the donations, which were received too late to be included in the picnic report: Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rimbey, $7.50; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ross, $7.50; Mrs. Edith Mehrhoff, $2.00; Dean Allen, $5.00; family of W. H. and Ida Dyer, $5.00; Mrs. Alma Bradford, $3.00 and Bert Tankersley, $5.00.

Also the following corrections have been made: The donation of $5.00, listed as given by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Nagle, should have been Mr. and Mrs. John Nagle, as giving $3.00 to the Pine Tree cemetery and $2.00 to the Rawlins cemetery; the one of Mrs. Ira Ledbetter as giving $3.00 to Pine Tree, should have been given to the Patterson cemetery, and the name of Mrs. Anna McClennan was unintentionally omitted from the list as having donated $2.50 to the Patterson cemetery.

Checks for these amounts have been mailed to the treasurers of the above cemeteries.

YOU SHOULD LIVE SO LONG
By Steve April

A tourist skindiver exploring the bottom of Lake Harris found a skeleton wrapped in heavy chains and iron animal traps, with the initials, J. W. and D. G. punched in them. The diver brought as many of the traps and bones as he could carry to the surface.

The big house in Lake Harris belonged to Jake (Pops) Webb, the resort's richest and oldest man. Pops, who had not only built the town from a swampy village, and had been elected Mayor of Lake Harris a dozen times, he seemed to make a fetish of long living. For the past few years, on each birthday, Pops would be interviewed by local reporters.

This day, as the "youngest 92-year-old in the county," Pops was giving his views on diet, work, sin, and politics, when Joe Davis, chief of Lake Harris' police force, walked into the great mansion, insisted he had to see the old man alone and at once. Webb was furious at the interruption until Davis told him, "Sir, I'm arresting you for the murder of Drayton Giles."

Pops mumbled, "Arresting me? Why your daddy wasn't born when Drayton was around."

"Yes sir, but gossip has a habit of never dying. I remember by grandmother telling me how 70 years ago Drayton disappeared one wintery day while trapping. You had bruises on your face."

"I fell on the ice!" Pops cut in.

"That's what you claimed, but grandma thought Drayton caught you robbing his traps, gave you a thrashing. She didn't believe that story you told about Mr. Giles suddenly deciding to go West. Not when both of you were courting Joan Turner."

"Joe, careful how you talk about my dear, departed wife!"

Pops' face was red with rage, but that didn't seem to bother Police Chief Davis, who after giving the older man a brief glance, went on, heedless of the interruption.

"Everybody here knows you married Joan Turner and when her father passed on, used his money to drain the lake with fish to attract the tourists, building the first hotel here. You've done a great deal for us and our town, sir, but murder is still a crime even after 74 years!"

"Drayton found you stealing his skins, you bashed his head in with a trap. Next, you dragged the body out onto the frozen lake, cut a hole in the ice, weighed down the corpse with traps and chains and let it sink. County homicide says the bones are those of a man of Drayton Giles' build, plus the traps have your initials and his."

Later, as Jake Webb was being booked in the modern jail he had helped build for Lake Harris, he seemed to have shrunk to the old man he was as he muttered, "I'll fight it in court with the best lawyer! You've no real proof, just an old wives tale!"

"That's your right, sir, to defend yourself in court. But crime catches up with a criminal because he always makes a mistake."

Pops turned to the young police chief. "I didn't rise from a poor farm boy to a millionaire by making mistakes! Jake Webb never made a single mistake in his 92 years." Then the shrill voice died as he whispered, as if thinking aloud, "Back then, who could foresee such devilish things as skindivers? Man shouldn't try to be a fish... Even if they can prove it, I'll fight... show it was self-defense!"

Shaking his head, Joe Davis said gently, "Sir, I guess your mistake was in trying to live too long."

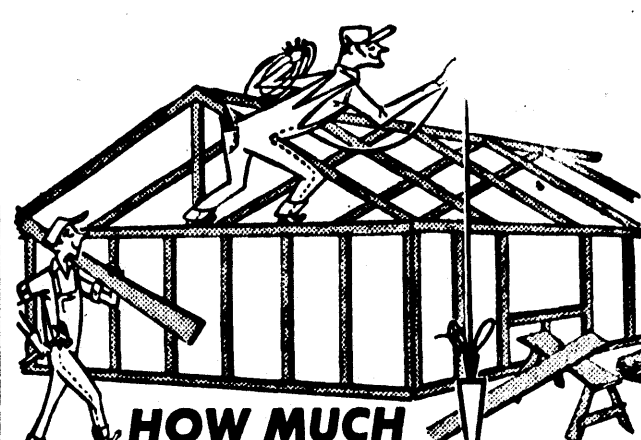

(The End)

A skindiver uncovered the murder.

District Rotary Governor Speaks At Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — Earl E. Jukes, Collinsville, governor of District 646 of Rotary International, made his official visit at a dinner meeting held by the local club at the Hopkins Community Hall, Wednesday night, where he spoke before the men, and following the regular session, met with the president, Kenneth Ballard, and committee chairmen.

Wayne Brauer, Litchfield, was a guest. The dinner was served by the PTA.

While the men were attending the dinner meeting honoring the district governor, the wives of the officers enjoyed a dinner at the home of the wife of past district governor Lloyd Coffman of this city.

Mrs. Jukes, guest of honor at the Coffman dinner, met with the following Rotary-Annis, Mesdames: Kenneth Ballard, Roy Burrus, A. D. Ruyle, James P. Hopkins, and Mrs. Coffman's daughters, Mrs. Wayne Brauer, whose husband is president of the Litchfield Rotary Club, and Mrs. Ray Ferguson, Roodhouse.

Mrs. Lee Haney has returned from a trip to the Ozarks including special visits to the Meramec Caves, Bagnell Dam, and other points of interest.

Mrs. Haney accompanied Mr.

and Mrs. Keith Jackson and daughter, Peggy. Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Dawson and son, and Joe Bonn, Jacksonville; and Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Sloan and son, Joe, Kankakee.

Mrs. Elmer Houseman has returned from a visit with her son, Jim Houseman, and family, Kankakee, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gurwell and daughter, Jessica, Mexico, Mo., are expected for a visit here this week with her mother, Mrs. Clarence Whitworth, and husband, Mrs. Gurwell and daughter will remain for a week.

Visitors in the home of Miss Artie Olson have been her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dawson, and daughter, Cheryl, Newton, Kans.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ballard, St. Paul, Minn., are visiting his mother, Mrs. W. H. Ballard, and with others. Mr. and Mrs. Ballard are returning from a trip to the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash., and with relatives including members of the Antrobus family, formerly of Roodhouse.

A dinner served at the Blackhawk, Jacksonville, Wednesday, celebrated the birthday anniversaries of Roy Reynolds which will occur on August 27 and the of his son-in-law, Bob Worral, Winchester, which occurred on August 25. Hostess for the dinner was Mrs. Bob Worral.

Besides the guests of honor and the hostess, present were Mrs. Worral's mother, Mrs. Roy Reynolds, and the Worral sons.

Treadways Mark 56th Anniversary In Virginia Home

VIRGINIA—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Treadway will celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary, Wednesday, Aug. 29. All of their married life has been spent in Virginia. They are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Corban Thomas, of Virginia.

Band director, Harold Wolke has requested all Virginia High school band members to report at 9 a.m., Saturday, to the band room and be prepared to wear complete uniform in the 4-H parade.

Members of the Illinois Valley Shrine Club will enjoy their annual fish fry as guests of Sid and Bill Campbell Friday evening, Aug. 31. The fish is located two miles west of Ashland on Rt. 135, then north on the Newmansville black-top road.

The Campbells will be assisted by Harold "Bud" Price and Cliff Rose of Browning; Ralph Weber and Roy Monroe, of Ashland. The Ansar Shrine's Clown Band will be on hand to entertain the Nobles and their guests.

CWF Sets Bazaar
The CWF of the Virginia Christian church met at the home of Mrs. Russell Knight, with 14 members in attendance. Mrs. Bessie Peterson opened the meeting with the CWF prayer.

Reports were given by the service committee. Some suggestions for service were made. A bazaar will be held in November on the same day as the Thanksgiving dinner, given by the Capsule Sisters. The clothing drive will close on Nov. 7. All articles of clothing must be in by that date.

Mrs. Margery Kilby introduced a number of new books for Missionary reading and suggested that each member read one book a month.

The birthday party for CWF will be held at the Waterworks Park.

A tentative date, Sept. 16, has been set for the meeting. The district meeting will be held in the First Christian church at Carthage, on Sept. 9. The CWF session will be from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. All CWF officers and as many members as possible have been urged to attend.

Mrs. Florence Riemann presented the lesson, "Our Church and Its Ministry to Special Needs." Mrs. Paul Peterson had charge of devotions. The meeting closed with the CWF benediction.

During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held on Sept. 4th.

The Capsule Sisters of the Christian church observed the 31st anniversary of their organization Tuesday evening, with a dinner at the Blackhawk restaurant in Jacksonville at 7 o'clock. Raymond Smith took the 33 Capsule Sisters to the restaurant in his school bus.

Each year during the month of August, the members enjoy a special get-together in observance of the anniversary of the year.

NEW SLANT ON SUNDIALS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., AP. — Two Louisville men have come up with a novel sundial that resembles a basketball. Paul Slider and Earl Jones have applied for a patent.

The device is an eight-inch sphere with two narrow slots exactly opposite each other. The slots point directly north-south and the slots are vertical at that plane. When the sphere is turned so that the sun's rays shine through both slots at the same time, an indicator on the metered face points to the time of day.

Nichols Park Ladies Day Golf News

By FRANK CHUMLEY

This past Tuesday the regular play for the day was a chip in on number 5 which was won by Betty Taylor and a chip in on number six, which was won by Marge Howard.

Low net, with handicap, for the first flight was Lois Hayes, for the second flight, was Doris Bethel.

The Nichols Park Ladies Championship Tournament is well underway. Most of the first matches have been played. Rose Hagan and Betty Taylor played twenty-one holes of beautiful golf before Rose Hagan drove one in the lake and lost the hole to Betty Taylor, putting Betty one up after twenty-one holes. They both should be patted on the back for two wonderful games of golf. The standings as far as the rest of the ladies are concerned, is as follows:

Second flight—
Alpha Witham—Edna 3 up
Edna Greenler
Nancy Sommers—Nancy 4 up
Betty Price
Marsha Little—Marsha 5 up
Lucille Eberhardt
Helen Little—Donna 6 up
Donna DeLong
First flight—
Betty Taylor—Betty 1 up
Rose Hagan
Marge Howard—Janet 6 up
Janet Davenport
Doris Walz
Frank Chumley—Frank 3 up

There are more matches that have to be played before next Tuesday, so the results so far are incomplete. The final results will not be available for a few weeks yet, but keep watching the progress of the players and may the best girls win.

As for next Tuesday's play, you'll have to wait until you get out there, so—see you there.

BLUFFS RESIDENT HONORED AT PARTY

BLUFFS — Henry Meier was honored on his birthday Sunday evening at their country home. Members of the immediate family enjoyed a supper with other relatives and friends arriving later for home made ice cream and cakes.

His brother-in-law, Ed Rausch, was also celebrating his birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier; Mr. and Mrs. Orville Meier; Elaine and Donna of Bartonville; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ommen of Murrayville; Mr. and Mrs. David Orchard; Judy and Ronda; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams; John, Bob, and Janet; Francis Meier and Billy, and Gene Martin.

Joining the family later in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butcher of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Duvendick, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rausch and Romandale, Mr. and Mrs. August Meier, Clyde Williams, and Margaret Watson.

Miss Sue Bridgman has returned from a summer of study in Mexico. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bridgman, drove to Carbondale last week to meet her.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Oakes and Mrs. Harold Oakes are attending the annual Nut Growers Convention being held this week in Evansville, Ind.

Delicate, wispy cirrus clouds are ice crystals floating from four to seven miles above earth.

1942 White Hall Class Observes 2nd Reunion

WHITE HALL—The second reunion of the White Hall High School class of 1942, has held recently at Lions Park, with a basket dinner at noon, after which Bill Spangenberg presided over the business meeting.

Name Secretary Betty Dean Benner was unanimously approved as secretary, and she will contact as many of the class members as possible for a reunion to be held in 1967 on the first Sunday following July 4th, which will mark the 25th anniversary of the class, and all who attended school at White Hall during the school years of the class of 1942, will be invited to attend the reunion. Roll call will be held and letters read from members unable to attend. The class plans to hold a regular reunion every five years.

Attending this year were Betty Dean Benner, Roodhouse; Veda Bateman Williams, Carrollton; Martha Cox Dean, White Hall; Delores Hawk Fair, San Diego, Calif.; Mary Lovelace Raabe, Patterson; Winona Prindle Burris, Springfield, Ill.; William L. Spencer, Jr., Jacksonville.

Vivian Moulton Owdom, Washington, Ill.; Bob Allen, White Hall; Bill Spangenberg, Hillview; Junior Nell, Hillview; William R. Martin, White Hall; Sam Taylor, St. Louis; Richard L. Pratt, Jacksonville; Howard Francis Pilkington, Decatur; Ray Carter, Carrollton; Noble and Brickey Shutz attended too late for the roll call. A letter was read from Barbara Evans Clemmensen, Albuquerque, N. M., and guests included Jeff Burris, and John D. Robinson, Springfield, Armand Hutchens, Alton, having been former classmates.

Jacksonville Country Club Ladies Golf News

Mrs. Jack Bailis was named champion lady golfer of the Jacksonville Country club by defeating Mrs. Bill Wall in the championship flight played last Wednesday. Mrs. William Dawdy was the top winner in the first flight and Mrs. Howard Walker first place winner in the second flight.

GREENFIELD SOLDIER IN SWIFT STRIKE II

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AHT-NC)—Army PPC Francis J. Longmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Longmeyer, Route 2, Greenfield, Ill., participated with more than 70,000 Army and Air Force personnel in Exercise Swift Strike II, a two-week U.S. Strike Command maneuver in North and South Carolina that ended Aug. 17. The Strike Command unites select Army and Air Force units as an air-ground combat team that can move swiftly into action any place in the world.

Longmeyer is a member of Company C of the 101st Airborne Division's 502d Infantry which is regularly stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The 24-year-old soldier entered the Army in August 1961 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He was graduated from Greenfield Community Unit High School in 1956 and attended Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

'I Love A Challenge' Maremont Declares—Kerner Obliges Him

By GENE CHARLES MCDANIEL
CHICAGO (AP)—"I love a challenge and solving problems," Arnold Maremont, Chicago industrialist and art collector, has said. Gov. Otto Kerner is obliging.

Wednesday he appointed Maremont to the Illinois Public Aid Commission and expects Maremont to be elected chairman.

Maremont, 58, a wealthy Democrat, succeeds C. Virgil Martin, a Chicago department store executive who resigned as a member and chairman of IPAC in the midst of a disagreement with the governor last month.

Appointed with Maremont was Daniel Walker, 40, a Chicago lawyer and former president of the Democratic Federation of Illinois. He succeeds Mrs. Ivan Elliott of Carmi, who has resigned.

The governor and the commission have been at odds over proposals by Kerner to reduce public assistance payments.

Maremont, in a news conference following announcement of his appointment in Springfield, blamed the conflict on "lack of communication" between the governor and the commission.

Maremont said also that as far as he is concerned Peter Cahill, IPAC executive secretary, will not be fired. Cahill has been involved in the dispute with the governor.

The governor wants to be assured, Maremont said, that those who are receiving public aid fraudulently are caught and eliminated from the rolls.

He said he thinks not more than 2 per cent of the 400,000 relief cases involve fraudulent claims, but added that this represents a lot of money.

"I think the bulk of people are entitled to aid and want to work," Maremont said. "Our responsibility to them is to retrain and rehabilitate them."

Maremont, president of the Maremont Corp., manufacturer of automotive and aerospace parts, calls himself a 100 per cent Democrat—a supporter of President Kennedy's New Frontier and of Gov. Kerner.

The governor previously appointed Maremont to the boards of Southern Illinois University and to the Illinois Council of Economic Advisors, of which Maremont is chairman.

With the IPAC appointment, Maremont said, he has resigned from the council but intends to remain on the SIU board.

Maremont's interest in mental health has resulted in his appointment as a director of the National Association for Mental Health, a director of the Mental Health Society of Greater Chicago, a board member of the Institute for Psychoanalysis and a director of the executive committee of the Illinois Association for Mental Health.

He campaigned in 1960 for adoption of the $150 million bond issue to improve the state's mental institutions. At the time he charged, "We are operating warehouses of the mentally ill, not hospitals."

He has spoken out for civil liberties, racial equality and a federal fair employment practices act.

A well-known art collector, Maremont has part of his vast collection of 20th century painting and sculpture in his Winnetka home and part of it in his Michigan Avenue offices.

The Illinois Institute of Technology recently placed the entire collection in one place of the first collection, which he amassed with his wife.

Maremont holds a law degree and is a member of the bar but never practiced law. He entered the family business, which grew from a Chicago blacksmith shop founded in 1877, and now, besides heading it, is on the boards of several other companies.

His salary from the Maremont Corp. is $80,000 a year.

In addition to his corporate activity, he is on the board of the magazine Saturday Review and serves as an official of such organizations and institutions as the Lyric Opera, the Art Institute of Chicago, Hull House and the City Center Opera and Ballet Company of New York.

JOINS SELECT GROUP
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cincinnati joined a select group in winning the 1962 NCAA basketball championship. The only other teams to grab the title two years in a row were Oklahoma State, Kentucky and San Francisco. Cincinnati defeated Ohio State for the championship in 1961 and again this year.

FIRST HAND
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—There were lots of scouts present when Virginia's football team played its spring game against an alumni squad, but only one of them actually rubbed elbows with the players on the field.

Bob Edwards, now a member of the Virginia Tech coaching staff, scouted for Tech—and also played for the Cavalier alumni.

He was captain of the 199 Virginia team.

As I See It

by E. W. BROWN

A lot of people who could hardly wait till summer got here... are beginning to wonder where it's gone in such a hurry. To some of us, September may be just another month... but to mothers of school children and to teachers it stands out like egg on a paunchy man's vest.

It's the season of the annual switchover. All over the land the school bells ring out, and there's no doubt about whom the bells toll for. Any confusion can be straightened out by the truant officer. It's the time when the kids stop asking questions and try to answer a few. Mothers gratefully breathe a sigh of relief... which is probably not echoed by the teachers. One thing about vacation time... it gives parents a chance to appreciate teachers.

A Long Beach, Calif., vitamin plant blew up a while back. Those vitamins must be dynamite.

Why don't you spend your Labor Day weekend putting some mileage on a sweet new Plymouth. USAC Probe May Cancel Fair Tracks Two Races Killed On Harness Track

MARION, Ohio (AP)—The deaths of two widely-known midwest car drivers in a pileup of cars during a U.S. Auto Club race Thursday night may spell the end of such racing on the local fairgrounds track.

This was indicated from several sources as officials began investigating the smashup in which Clark (Shorty) Templeman, 42, of Seattle, Wash., and Jim Hemmings, 27, of North Vernon, Ind., were injured fatally.

Deaths of the two drivers brought to six the number of deaths of USAC drivers this year.

Templeman, three times national midwest car racing champion, had started five times in the Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day race. He was rated one of the race's top contenders, and had finished 11th in the classic this year. He was fourth in the big race in 1961. He had been a keen competitor on both big and little tracks in the country for 17 years.

Hemmings was a relative newcomer to big time racing, having been competing since 1955. He failed to qualify after being nominated for the 500 this year.

Templeman died in Marion General Hospital shortly after the crash, and Hemmings was dead on arrival. USAC racing director Henry Banks said in Indianapolis that a preliminary report showed 11 cars were involved in the accident in one degree or another. He said the cars were tightly bunched on the half-mile dirt track when Templeman went into a slide and was hit broadside.

Two other drivers in the pileup were injured but not seriously. Sheriff Glenn Oenour said after the accident he would ask the prosecuting attorney to investigate the crash here with the aim of banning future auto races at the fairgrounds, saying "this is strictly a harness racing track and not equipped for auto racing."

Harry Beck of Indianapolis suffered arm and hand abrasions, and Russ Congdon, 37, of Puyallup, Wash., suffered chest contusions. Both were released after treatment at the hospital.

Bob Wentz of St. Louis, who was not involved in the wreck, won the race when it restarted after the accident. Other drivers who came back to finish were Jimmy Davies, Monticello, Ind., defending national midwest champion and current leader; Bobby Grim, Indianapolis; Allen Crowe, Springfield, Ill., and Ronny Duman, Dearborn, Mich.

All the drivers wore safety belts. For Templeman, his death marked the end of a streak of bad luck. The national champion in the midwest in 1956, 1957 and 1958 got out of an Indianapolis hospital only a few weeks ago. He had been in Grand Rapids, Mich. He suffered earlier this summer in a race where a broken leg last year in a garage mishap and had driven most of his subsequent races with a brace on his leg.

This season 1 the worst in deaths since 1959 when seven drivers were killed.

Templeman left a widow and four children. Hemmings was married and had one son.

Among the other auto racing victims this year was Norman Wyse, 24, of Urbana, Ill., who died in a Belleville, Ill., hospital Tuesday of injuries suffered when his midwest auto spun out of control and crashed at Belleclair Race Track Saturday night.

Twins Staggered By Athletics 12-1

—Kansas City ripped Minnesota's staggering pitching forces for eight runs in the third inning Friday night as the Athletics belted the Twins 12-1 with 15 hits.

Rookie right-hander Orlando Pena (2-1) added the insult of five hitting the Twins. The Minnesotaans, in a bat slump, continued a scoreless streak through 19 innings before counting against Pena on Vic Power's sacrifice fly in the fifth.

The A's paraded 13 men to the plate in the third, scoring all eight runs before starter Bill Pleis (2-4) and first reliever Lee Stange got anyone out.

Big blows of the frame were rookie catcher Bill Bryan's three-run home run off Stange and Gene Cimoli's two-run single.

Chicago Man Wins Grand American

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Milton Youngs, 51-year-old Chicago police detective, won the 63rd Grand American Handicap trapshoot Friday by defeating K. F. Kiplinger of Louisville, Ind., 23-22 in a shoot-off after they had tied at 99-100.

It was a grueling day for the bushy-haired Chicago grandfathers. He missed either his third or eighth, he couldn't remember which, but went on to break his 99 from the 20-yard line. He was the 213th shooter in a field of 2,455, greatest in the event's history.

For more than eight hours he was forced to sweat it out as the more than 2,000 contestants made a run at him and failed.

Kiplinger, 36th from the end, wheeled in with his 99 as dusk was settling over the mile-long trap line.

Kiplinger, a 59-year-old garage mechanic, fired from the 23-yard line. He went through his first 83 targets without a miss but failed to shatter the next one on an angle shot and dropped into the dead-end.

In the pressure-packed shoot-off with the coveted title, a 12-place setting of silverware and a heavy portion of the purse riding on the result, Youngs broke 23 of 25 to take it all as Kiplinger missed three times.

The new champion has been a Chicago policeman for 20 years. He said he shoots every Sunday when he can, except when his police department schedule limits that to about every seventh week.

Darryl Drennen, 14, a Granville, Ill., schoolboy, took the sub junior championship with 97.

Mets Rap Dodgers For Ninth Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Mets jumped on Los Angeles ace Don Drysdale and Ron Perranoski for three runs in the eighth inning Friday night, snapped a 3-3 tie and handed the stumbling Dodgers their ninth loss in their last 13 games, 6-3.

The loss was only the second in 16 games this season for the Dodgers, the last-place Mets, trimmed their National League record to 24 games over San Francisco and left Cincinnati only three back.

The Giants whipped Philadelphia 6-0 and Cincinnati beat Houston 4-2.

The Dodgers, who have lost three games off their lead since starting the nose dive, managed only six hits off Met right-hander Jay Hook, who won his eighth against 14 losses. They also were guilty of two errors and some marginal play.

Drysdale, the winningest pitcher in the majors, was seeking his 23rd victory, but settled for his seventh loss. He and Perranoski were touched for 11 hits, including three home runs.

Los Angeles ... 000 010 000—3 6 2
New York ... 010 200 03X—6 11 3
Drysdale, Perranoski 8 and Roseboro, Hook and Coleman, W—Hook 8-14, L—Drysdale 22-7.

Home runs—Los Angeles, W. Davis 19, New York, Coleman 5, Throumberry 14 Kanehl 4.

Among the other auto racing victims this year was Norman Wyse, 24, of Urbana, Ill., who died in a Belleville, Ill., hospital Tuesday of injuries suffered when his midwest auto spun out of control and crashed at Belleclair Race Track Saturday night.

Pro Grid Ax Gets Honing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Professional football players hoping to be around when the regular season opens next month will be giving their ax in the big weekend exhibition games. The ax will be dropping sharply from now on.

The 14 National Football League clubs, with six Saturday exhibitions and one on Monday night, will be making sizable reductions Tuesday when each team must get down to 43 players. Eight American League teams, already down to 43, must be cut to 38 players by Tuesday.

But for the fans, there is widespread activity—mostly in the NFL where five teams remain undefeated.

Two of them, the Cleveland Browns and San Francisco 49ers, put 2-0 records on the line Saturday night at Portland, Ore. Both teams have shown powerful offenses in earlier games.

In other Saturday NFL exhibitions, Baltimore (2-0) meets Dallas (0-2) at Roanoke, Va.; Los Angeles (2-0) entertains New York (0-1-1) at Los Angeles; Green Bay's champion Packers (3-0) play the Chicago Bears (0-2) at Milwaukee; Washington (0-2) meets Philadelphia (1-1) at Charlotte, N.C.; and St. Louis (0-1-1) meets Minnesota (0-2) at Minneapolis.

There is little activity on the AFL exhibition schedule. The San Diego Chargers, who have yet to lose in 10 exhibitions since the league was organized in 1960, take on the Oakland Raiders Sunday at Oakland, Calif.

Several NFL teams already are down to 43 players, and they must be down to 38 on Sept. 4, and to the season player limit of 36 by Tuesday, Sept. 11. After Tuesday's AFL cuts, teams in the younger circuit have until Sept. 24 to get down to the 33-player limit.

The American League exhibition schedule winds up next weekend, and the regular season gets under way on Sept. 9. The NFL has two more weeks of exhibition activity before it begins playing games, that count on Sunday, Sept. 16.

O'Dell Handcuffs Philadelphia, 6-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—San Francisco's Billy O'Dell shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 Friday night as Orlando Cepeda had a perfect night at the plate with two solo homers and three singles good for four runs batted in.

It was only the third win in 11 games for the second-place Giants.

The Giants pounded out 13 hits. Harvey Kuenn, who singled to open the game, scored the first Giant run on singles by Matty Alou and Cepeda, and tallied the second when he hit his eighth homer into the upper left field stands in the fifth.

Cepeda hit his 27th homer into the upper center field stands in the sixth and another run scored on a single by Felipe Alou and Chuck Hiller and two walks by reliever John Bozzer.

Cepeda homered again in the seventh and then singled in the final tally in the ninth after Jim Owens had issued a walk.

San Francisco 000 012 101—6 13 0
Philadelphia 000 000 000—0 5 1
O'Dell and Orsino; McLish, Bozzer 6, Owens 9 and Oldis, W—O'Dell 15-11, L—McLish 8-4.

KENTUCKY BELLE TAKES GIRLS JR.
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Mary Lou Daniel, a 17-year-old Kentucky belle, cut Mary Alice Sawyer of Baltimore, Md., off at the 18th green Friday and won the 14th U.S. Golf Association Girls Junior Championship.

The margin was 2-up as Mary Alice 3-putted for a 5 and Mary Lou knocked in a 4-footer for a par 4.

Yanks Drop Two Games

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles crushed the league-leading New York Yankees 6-2 and 14-2 in a two-night double-header Friday night with a rare display of power and fine pitching by Chuck Estrada and Jack Fisher.

Estrada stopped the Yanks on five hits in the opener and struck out 10 as he won his first game since July 15 and increased his record to 6-13.

A four-run rally in the second inning off loser Jim Bouton, featuring a two-run triple by Hobie Landrith, iced the victory early.

A two-run homer by Cleve Boyer scored the New York runs in the third.

Fisher hurled no-hit ball through the first four innings of the nightcap and wound up with a seven-hitter. One Yankee run was unearned, scoring in the fifth after an error by second baseman Marv Breeding.

Baltimore, meanwhile, clubbed starter Bob Turley and reliever Roland Sheldon for 19 of their 20 hits and all of their runs while scoring in each of the first six innings.

Reds Do It Again Beating Houston

CINCINNATI (AP)—A four-run outburst in the third inning stood up the rest of the way Friday night for a 4-2 victory by Cincinnati's resurgent Reds over Houston.

Bob Purkey, veteran of eight years in the majors, won his 20th game for the first season ever, and made it five victories in a row for the third place Reds.

The knuckle balling right-hander went all the way with a eight-hitter and walked only one.

However, a double play bailed him out of trouble in the sixth after two Colt singles. A pickoff at second helped him get out of similar trouble in the seventh.

The Colts had touched Purkey for two quick markers in the second inning on catcher Hal Smith's homer after Bob Aspromonte's double.

ILLINOIS ENTRY OUT OF BABE RUTH PLAY
BRIDGETON, N. J. (AP)—Charlottesville, N.C., behind the steady pitching of Bob Rhoads, defeated Calumet City, Ill., 5-0, Friday in the Babe Ruth World Series. The defeat, second for Calumet City, eliminated the Illinois entry from the tournament.

Rhoads was touched for only two hits. He struck out eight and walked three.

A three-run outburst by Charlottesville in the first inning gave him all the cushion he needed.

Beatty Clips Own Record

TURKU, Finland (AP)—Jim Beatty ran the fastest 5,000 meters ever turned in by an American when he clipped 6.8 seconds off his own listed U.S. standard Thursday with a clocking of 13 minutes, 45 seconds.

The former University of North Carolina ace, running for the Los Angeles Track Club, was thwarted, however, by a drizzling rain and cold weather in his bid to better the world standard of 13:35 held by Russia's Vladimir Kuts.

On the famous Idrottsparken track, Beatty finished some 120 meters in front of Sweden's So. Larson and Finland's R. Hoelkimpuro. They were second and third, respectively.

The powerful little 28-year-old American's time not only bettered his own listed American record of 3:51.8 but was 4.6 seconds faster than the 13:49.6 which Max Trux has up for recognition. In two recent races on the tour by the Los Angeles Track Club athletes, Beatty turned in miles of 3:56.5 and 3:56.3 but was unable to threaten the 3:54.4 world record of New Zealand's Peter Smith.

Beatty was forced to set most of his own pace Friday. Laszlo Tabori, Hungarian-born nationalized American, was out in front for two laps. Then Beatty took over to step up the pace.

Jim Grelle, originally entered in the 1,500-meter race, changed to the 800 and had to be content with third back of Finland's P. Juutilainen and O. Lintonen, both of whom were timed in 1:50.8. Grelle's time was 1:51.2.

The 1,500 was won by Finland's Olavi Salonen after a dramatic stretch duel with America's Bob Seman. Seman fell over the finish line in a desperate bid for victory and Salonen was declared the winner. The time for both was 3:44.4 with Sweden's Tommy Holmestrand third in 3:46.9.

AMA Warns All Grid Coaches

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association Friday warned college and high school football coaches concerning the danger of extensive physical exercise in extremely hot weather.

The AMA's word of caution followed the death earlier this week of a 15-year-old Gillespie, Ill., high school football player. Death was attributed to a heat stroke.

With the start of football practice, the committee on the medical aspects of sports said, it is essential to provide for gradual adjustment to hot weather activity.

"The old idea that water should be withheld from athletes during workouts has absolutely no scientific foundation," the AMA said.

"During exercise it is essential to replace the water lost by perspiration."

Coaches were advised to observe athletes carefully for signs of lethargy, inattention, stupor, awkwardness or unusual fatigue. Symptoms of water and salt depletion may include headache, nausea, hallucinations and weak and rapid pulse, the AMA said.

MAY AVENGE ONLY LOSS
NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Archer hopes to avenge the only loss of his pro career Saturday night when he faces Jose Gonzalez in the all-New York middleweight feature fight at Madison Square Garden.

MOSS 'TERREIC'
MAY DRIVE AGAIN
LONDON (AP)—Stirling Moss, one of the world's greatest auto racing drivers, came home from a convalescing holiday in the Bahamas Friday and said: "When I drive again it may be two weeks, two months or never."

Moss, dangerously injured in an auto racing crash April 23, went to the sunny Bahamas to recover from his injuries.

"I feel terrific," he said. "When I drive again it may be two weeks, two months or never. There is no question of quitting. It's an unfortunate thing but it would not worry me if I don't drive again."

JOLIET WINS WORLD
PONY LEAGUE BERTH
DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Joliet, Ill., won a berth in the Pony League World Series by beating Bay City, Mich., 9-3, in the divisional tournament finals Friday.

Ken Gray drove in five runs with four hits, including a home run, to lead the Joliet attack. Jerry Adams also homered for Joliet.

The victory sends Joliet to the national tournament at Washington, Pa.

Spahn After 6th In Row

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Warren Spahn, baseball's only active 300-game winner, will be seeking more than his sixth straight victory when he pitches against the Chicago Cubs Saturday. The brilliant Milwaukee southpaw will be striving to keep alive his hopes for a 13th 20-victory season.

With 13 games already won, the 41-year-old wonder will get only eight more chances to achieve his goal. Under normal circumstances, the odds against Spahn would be almost prohibitive.

But Spahn, one of the game's greatest finishers, is not a normal pitcher. The most productive months of his 17-year career have been August and September when he's won 142 while losing only 63.

In August alone, Spahn boasts a remarkable 76-31 record. He hasn't been beaten in that month since 1959 and has won 15 straight. In the last 10 years he has won 50 of 60 decisions in August.

Spahn's September record of 66-32 is almost as incredible. He has won 18 of his last 24 September decisions.

For some reason that even he can't explain, Spahn through the years has pitched in a sort of Jekyll-Hyde pattern since joining the Braves in 1946. From April up to the All-Star game interlude in mid-July, he's been little more than a 500 pitcher. Thereafter, he's been a spectacular.

TCU Golfer Paces Oklahoma Play

By NORMAN ROWLAND
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Don Massengale, 25-year-old former Texas Christian University star, battled 30-mile an hour winds to post a 4-under-par 69 Friday and take the second round lead in the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament with a 137 for 36 holes.

Massengale, of Jacksonville, Tex., coupled his 68 with a first round 69 to put him 7-under-par at the halfway point over the par 36-72 Quail Creek Country Club course.

Massengale, in only his third year on the tour, leads Gay Brewer Jr., by one stroke and Doug Sanders by two. Brewer shot his second straight 69 and Sanders, winner of last week's St. Paul Open, turned in a 69 to go with his 70 of Thursday.

Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., and Terry Dill of Austin, Tex., who shared the first round lead with Johnny Pott, were three strokes behind the leader at 140.

Pott, of Gull Hills, Miss., and Gene Littler, the tour's second leading money winner, came in at 141.

D'AMATO ARRIVES AT CHAMPS' CAMP

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Cus O'Malley, Floyd Patterson's manager, made an unexpected appearance Friday, joining the heavyweight champion in his training camp and denying there ever was a rift between them.

D'Amato's whereabouts had been a mystery since late spring, when Patterson agreed to a title fight with Sonny Liston. The bout will be Sept. 25 at Comiskey Park in Chicago.

Cus said he was 100 per cent behind Patterson, adding: "We are not feuding. We understand each other perfectly, and I'll be in his camp from now on helping him get ready for Liston."

S. Africans Tip Aussies

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Unranked South Africans Cliff Drysdale and Gordon Forbes stunned favored Fred Stolle and Rod Laver of Australia in a four-hour 92-game marathon Friday after Mexico's Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox handed out a volleying lesson in the quarter-finals of the National Doubles Tennis Championships.

In the chill twilight, the brash South Africans broke Stolle's service in the 32nd game of the fifth set for a 4-6, 12-10, 2-6, 11-9, 17-15 triumph over the third seeded foreigners.

Osuna and Palafox, the 23-year-old Mexican Davis Cup pair, raced to the net and cut sharp-breaking returns en route to a 6-3, 6-4, 9-7 triumph at Longwood over Marty Riessen of Evansville, Ind., and Ramsey Earnhart of Ventura, Calif.

The South Africans were leading 16-15 when Referee Samuel Fitch told the announcer this would be the final game of the night regardless of the outcome with arrangements to complete the play Saturday. The South Africans made it unnecessary.

Service breaks against Riessen in the sixth game of the opening set and Earnhart in the seventh game of the second wrapped up a quick, commanding lead for the skilled visitors.

Top seeded American girls Karen Hantze Susman and Billie Jean Moffitt, the California kids who won at Wimbledon, ousted sentimental favorites Margaret Osborne duPont and Margaret Varner of Wilmington, Del., 6-2, 6-3 in the women's semifinal.

Cubs Sock Braves In 15-Hit Attack

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs socked Milwaukee with a 15-hit attack and ended the Braves' five-game winning streak 7-2 Friday behind right-hander Bob Buhl.

Pitching in 90-degree heat, Buhl limited his former teammates to six hits, picking up his 10th victory against nine losses.

The Cubs scored all the runs Buhl needed in the first two innings when they rapped out seven of their hits for five runs, including doubles by George Altman, Cuno Barragan and Lou Brock. Brock had a perfect day at the plate with three other hits and an intentional pass.

Milwaukee's Hank Aaron hit his 34th homer in the second inning and extended his hitting streak to 24 games, longest in the majors. Milwaukee ... 010 100 000—2 6 0

The Lip Collapses Before Mets Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher, Los Angeles Dodgers' coach and former manager of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, collapsed Friday night and was taken to a hospital with a "violent case of penicillin allergy."

The 56-year-old Durocher was stricken while sitting in front of his locker before the game with the New York Mets at the Polo Grounds.

Durocher was stretched on a clubhouse bench and a physician was summoned over the loud-speaker system. Dr. Wade A. Hastings of Malone, N. Y., who was attending the game with his sons, rushed to the clubhouse.

"It was a penicillin anaphylactic shock," said Dr. Hastings. "He had a bad reaction from a penicillin shot he took for an infection during the afternoon."

Durocher was taken to Roosevelt Hospital, Mets' physician Dr. Peter LaMotte, who had not yet arrived at the park when Durocher was stricken, took charge of the case.

The special goose season for Alexander, Jackson, Union and Williamson counties will be Nov. 3 through Dec. 18. They have a harvest quota of 10,000. The season will be closed if the quota is reached before Dec. 18. Other counties will have a season from Oct. 20 through Nov. 19.

In the four counties, shooting hours are sunrise to 3 p.m. CST daily with daily bag and possession limits of five geese, which may not include more than two Canada geese or its species; two White-Fronted geese; or one Canada goose or subspecies and one White-Fronted goose.

Goose shooting in other counties will be from sunrise to noon CST. Limits are the same as in the other four counties on bag and possession.

The 1962 football code will be discussed by the state interpreter and an instructional filmstrip, "Penalty Enforcement," will be viewed.

A SCORING MAN
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—All-America Billy McGill 6-foot-9, smashed every individual scoring record at the University of Utah during his college basketball career.

McGill, a native of Los Angeles, won the 1961-62 national basketball scoring championship with 1,009 points in 26 games. That represented an average of 38.8 points per game, second highest season average ever recorded in major college basketball.

Flight Forecast Fair For Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The federal allowance of 25 days for duck hunting in Illinois will be used Oct. 26 through Nov. 19, the state Conservation Department announced Friday.

Illinois hunters can expect only a fair flight, the department added. Special arrangements were established for goose hunting.

Shooting will be allowed from noon (CST) to sunset opening day and from sunrise to noon (CST) all other days.

Canvasback and Redhead ducks may not be shot, the department said.
